Sofia, Nov. 19.—The allied Balkan nations today assented to the Turkish proposal to discuss the terms of an armistice and eventual peace. The reply sent to the dispatch of the Grand Vizier to King Ferdinand of Bulgaria says:

"The Bulgarian government, after agreement with the allied cabinets of Serbia, Montenegro, and Greece, informs the Porte that plenipotentiaries have been appointed to arrange with the commanders in chief of the Turkish armies the conditions of an armistice and subsequently to proceed to the conclusion of peace."

Word to Powers.

London, Nov. 19.—The nations of the Balkan confederacy, satisfied with victory, today signified their willingness to treat for terms of peace at the request of the vanquished Turkish empire.

The lustre of their success only slightly has been dimmed by their temporary failure to overcome the rallied Turkish army at the gates of Constantinople and enter the Ottoman capital.

One Reason.

The stubborn defense encountered by the Bulgarians at the line of fortifications at Tachatalja and the realization that enormous slaughter would be necessary to pierce them at the point of the bayonet with every prospect that their ranks would be decimated by cholera before they had attained success, doubtless proved determining factors in inducing the conquerors to listen to the urgings of the great powers and refrain from pressing home their victory to the Turkish capital until they had presented terms of surrender to the vanquished and had met with a refusal of their acceptance.

Simultaneously with the dispatch to the grand vizier of their agreement to appoint peace plenipotentiaries the allied Balkan nations notified the European powers of the step they had taken and thanked them for their offer of mediation.

They added that mediation was no longer necessary as the Porte had addressed itself directly to the Balkan states who would now treat with Turkey without outside intervention.

Terms Uncertain.

That the terms of the victors will be drastic is known, but the European powers are doing their utmost to make them less harsh than was at first mooted without attempting to rob the Balkan confederacy of the fruits of its aggressive campaign.

To Bury Dead.

An eight-hour armistice has been agreed to between the Bulgarians and Turks at Tachatalja so that both armies may bury their dead, according to a news agency dispatch from Constantinople.

Victory Complete.

Belgrade, Nov. 19.—The Turkish casualties during the three days' fighting prior to the fall of Monastir before the attack of the Serbian troops are reported to have reached 1,000. Great quantities of modern rifles, machine guns and supplies fell into the hands of the Serbians. The Serbian government considers that with the fall of Monastir the work of the Serbian army in Macedonia can be regarded as complete.

International Incidents.

Vienna, Nov. 19.—Serious international incidents are reported to have occurred after the occupation of the Adriatic port of San Giovanni de Medua by the Montenegrins on Saturday according to the correspondent of the Reischapost at Scutari.

The correspondent telegraphs that the Turkish troops evacuated San Giovanni de Medua on the arrival of a Montenegrin column and he declares that an Austrian courier from Scutari was fired upon by the Montenegrin troops.

Austrian Mail.

When the Montenegrin commander, Gen. Martinovich arrived on Sunday he ordered the seizure of the Austrian mail bags lying there and destined for Scutari. The Montenegrin general then told his troops, according to the correspondent, to remove all the goods on board the Austrian Lloyd Magazine vessel anchored in the port and he had all the other Austrian craft lying there searched.

Took Possession.

The Montenegrin royal yacht arrived in port as though to take definitive possession for King Nicholas. The dispatch concludes that Turkish troops intend to attack the Montenegrins at San Giovanni de Medua today.

Less Fighting.

Constantinople, Nov. 19.—The artillery fight along the lines of Tachatalja was less violent yesterday than on Sunday according to a report of Nazim Pasha, the Turkish commander-in-chief. Firing, however, occurred in the line of fortifications. He continued: "We repulsed the enemy's infantry who tried to advance at some point."

Among the wounded who arrived in Constantinople yesterday was Gen.

Mahmoud Mukhtar, who was hit in the leg with a bullet. It was he who successfully attacked the Bulgarian left wing at Bunarhisar in the battle of Luleburgas.

Capture Alessio.

Rieka, Montenegro, Nov. 19.—A combine army of Servians and Montenegrins today occupied the town of Alessio near the Adriatic coast. Alessio has been the chief source of supply for the besieged Turkish garrison at Scutari. Although only a small place of 3,000 inhabitants its possession is of great importance.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

London, Nov. 19.—Trouble has arisen over the recent convention between Russia and Mongolia by which Russia recognizes and guarantees the independence of Mongolia. A meeting of 110 Mongol princes and chieftains was held yesterday in Peking according to a dispatch to the Daily Telegraph. They decided to repudiate absolutely the convention signed by Russia and Mongolia at Urga, the Mongolian capital, and resolved to ask President Shai Kai to afford military protection to those Mongolians willing to join the Chinese republic.

ABDUCTION CASE IS ORDERED DISMISSED

Charges Made Against Johnson in Connection With Cameron Girl Dismissed by Court.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Chicago, Nov. 19.—A charge of abduction against Jack Johnson, negro pugilist, was dismissed before Judge Hopkins today because of the prosecution's inability to prove that Lucile Cameron, the white girl whose associations with Johnson led to his arrest, had been abducted by him. The girl and her mother, Mrs. F. Cameron-Falconett both of whom are witnesses against Johnson in the federal action for alleged violations of the Mann law, were not in court when the case was dismissed.

MEXICO CITY SHAKEN BY A SLIGHT EARTHQUAKE TODAY.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Mexico City, Nov. 19.—A severe earthquake occurred here at 7:15 this morning. The movement was oscillatory and passed from north to south. It lasted more than three minutes. Many brick walls and a few poorly constructed houses were thrown down. The street pavement buckled and several water mains were broken. No casualties have been reported and the extent of the damage to property is slight.

Felt in Denver.

Denver, Colo., Nov. 19.—An earthquake was recorded on the seismograph at the college of the Sacred Heart at 7:05 and ending at 7:22 this morning. It is believed the disturbance was about 1500 miles distant in the direction of Alaska.

THREE WERE KILLED IN PISTOL DUEL IN A NEW YORK HOTEL

Two Others Dying as Result of Fight When Detectives Made
Raid on Rooms of Alleged Diamond Thief.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

New York, Nov. 19.—The body of Henry Vogel, described by the police as an international crook, and beside him the body of his girl "Lotie" lay in the morgue today and John Allen, a city detective was dead while in up-town hospitals four men, two of them detectives, were hovering between life and death unable to give a connected account of how they were shot in a raid on Vogel's rooms where he was sought as a diamond thief. In the fusillade which followed the entrance of the entrance of the detectives, Vogel and the woman were killed instantly. Accounts vary as to whether he shot his companion and committed suicide or whether they fell before the fire from the officers. Of the wounded, hope was expressed for the recovery of two, Luigi Gerardi, a private detective, and William Butler, waiter. For the other two, both shot in the abdomen, there was little hope. They are Martin S. Pay, a city detective and Louis Mondschien, proprietor of the hotel where the battle occurred. Allen died shortly before nine o'clock this morning. Operations were performed on Mondschien. The police have in their possession two steamer trunks, a valise, a dress suit case, a hand bag and a steamer bag which, when opened, are expected to reveal the secret. If not the loot of many big robberies and may lead to arrests in other cities. The trail of the pair yesterday which resulted in the fatal shooting followed directly the arrest of a dishonest servant girl.

LATEST CANDIDATES AFTER SPEAKERSHIP

L. L. Johnson of Door County Is Last
Assemblyman to Solicit Support —Other Political News.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Madison, Wis., Nov. 19.—L. L. Johnson of Door county, chairman of the committee on insurance at the last session of the legislature, is sending letters to members of the assembly appealing for support as a candidate for speaker. His comes close after letters of like import from Ray, J. Lye of Superior and Morin Hall of Black River Falls. None of the various new assemblymen who have visited Madison in the last week have had letters from Thomas J. Mahon of Eland who has publicly announced his candidacy. There is a strong possibility of new candidates for speaker coming out within the next ten days.

The close call for Gov. McGovern in the recent gubernatorial race has set political speculators to discussing possibilities for his honor two years hence. There seems to be a growing sentiment here for George E. Scott of Prairie Farm, Barron county now a state senator who was chairman of the republican state central committee in the recent campaign. Lieut. Gov. Thomas Morris is also mentioned in this connection.

All other political gossip centers around the approaching contest for state superintendent. C. P. Cary, who has been superintendent for a number of years, will be a candidate for reelection. William Kittle, secretary of the state board of normal regents, is expected soon to become an active candidate, although he has refused to comment upon the subject.

PROPOSE COMMISSION FORM FOR COUNTIES

Board of Three Members Suggested to Replace Supervisors According to Plan.

Madison, Wis., Nov. 19.—One of the proposals to come before the next legislature is the abolition of the present county board representation of one member for each town and city ward, and the substitution of the commission form. A resolution to this effect, to take the form of a memorial to the legislature, will probably come before the county board of Dane county this week. It is advocated by Supervisor Lowry of Stoughton, who claims the large membership of the board makes the system unworkable. He suggests a commission of three members, each having a good salary. The commission form for cities, he says has demonstrated the feasibility of the plan for counties. Sentiment of the Dane county board is against the resolution.

Goshen, N. Y., Nov. 19.—Introduction of evidence in the trial of Barton W. Gibson, the New York lawyer, charged with the murder of Mrs. Rosa Menschik Szabo, his client, while boating on Greenwood lake, July 18, began today. District Attorney Rogers planned to fix the scene of Mrs. Szabo's death in the minds of the jurors by placing six, perhaps more witnesses, on the stand before proving the fact of her death.

THREE KNOWN DEAD IN RUINS OF HOTEL IN LOS ANGELES, CAL.

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 19.—Three persons are known to have been killed and about 20 injured in a fire at the St. George Hotel on East Third street near Main early today.

The fire started on the second floor and drawn up through the elevator shaft it spread so rapidly that those on the 5th and 6th floors who did not receive the warning in time were compelled to jump from the windows. The known dead are: Mrs. Charlotte Harrington, Mrs. Ella Moran, Joseph Harrington, Los Angeles. The injured: Baby Harrington, 13 months old daughter of Mrs. Charlotte Harrington, slightly burned; Ray Harrah vaudeville performer injured jumping from 6th floor; Mrs. Ray Harrah injured jumping from sixth floor; Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Bock, jumped from the sixth story window. Mrs. Bock's back was broken. Bock's injuries are not serious. Julius Malone, colored engineer at hotel fatally burned. Jefferson Osborn, moving picture actor burns on face and arms. A dozen others were slightly injured. Mrs. Harrington, member of a company playing at a local theatre lost her life by jumping from the fifth floor. She first tossed her 18 months old baby into the net held by the fireman and then jumped, but missed and sustained injuries which caused her death a short time later. Mrs. Ella Moran jumped from a sixth story window and was crushed to death on the sidewalk. The fire did only small damage to the building except in the two upper floors.

FREIGHT TRAINS IN WRECK AT JUNCTION

Engine on "Dog Run" Smashed into Rear End of Freight Train Near South Y This Morning.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Milton Junction, Nov. 19.—A wreck on the St. Paul road between the South Y and Milton Junction at 6:15 o'clock this morning, delayed traffic over the line from Janesville to Madison, and blocked the track through the morning and part of the afternoon before the right of way was cleared up. The engine on the "dog run," the freight between Milton Junction, Janesville and Milton, smashed into the rear end of a freight train, half way from the South Y, a short distance from here and broke up the caboose and the freight car next to it. Fortunately no one was in the caboose at the time, so no one was injured. The engine on the "dog run" had the smokestack broken off. Trains through here had to be run over to Milton. A crew worked all morning and part of the afternoon clearing up the wreckage.

CASH REGISTER TRIAL BEGINS AT CINCINNATI

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Cincinnati, Nov. 19.—The trial of John H. And the women of Janesville are doing their Christmas shopping now.

EXPERTS PRONOUNCE ASSAILANT OF COL. ROOSEVELT INSANE

Commission Appointed by Milwaukee
Court Adjudges John Schrank
Would-be Assassin, Insane
Today.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Milwaukee, Nov. 19.—John Schrank, assailant of Theodore Roosevelt, has been adjudged insane by the commission of five alienists appointed by Judge A. C. Backus to determine the man's mental condition. The decision of the doctors was unanimous and means that Schrank cannot be tried for the attempted murder of Roosevelt, but will be committed to the Northern Hospital for Insane at Oakshosh. Schrank probably will remain in the Oakshosh asylum for the rest of his life as he cannot be released unless it is shown that he is completely cured and will not be subject again to an attack like the one that caused him to attempt the life of Roosevelt on the night of Oct. 14. The commission of alienists finished its work yesterday afternoon and its report which will be made to the court some time this week is being dictated today by Dr. Richard Dewey, chairman, assisted by the other four doctors on the commission. Later Judge Backus denied that the commission of alienists had finished its work and furthermore the judge said, "The commission at 11 a. m. is continuing the examination of Schrank in my chambers. If any member of the commission has given out advance information to the effect that Schrank has been held to be insane I shall adjudge him to be in contempt of court." It was learned from another source that the information to the effect that Col. Roosevelt's assailant was found to be insane came from the district attorney's office.

RAIL COMMISSIONERS MEET IN WASHINGTON

Sessions Opened Today in Offices of Interstate Commerce Commission—To Hear Reports.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 19.—The twenty-fourth annual convention of the National Association of Railway Commissioners began this morning at the offices of the Interstate Commerce Commission and will continue for several days. The association is composed of the members of the Interstate Commerce Commission and the railway commissioners of the different states. The president is Commissioner C. F. Staples of Minnesota.

The discussion of committee reports will occupy the most of the time of the convention. In addition to the report of the executive committee there will be reports on rates and price making, express rates and express service, shippers' claims, car service and demurrage, railroad taxes and plans for ascertaining fair valuation of railroad property, railway capitalization, statistics and accounts, safety appliances, telegraph and telephone rates and services, and the power, duty and work of State railway commission.

SMALL CITY IMPROVEMENT TOPIC FOR CONFERENCE

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Baltimore, Md., Nov. 19.—The eighth annual convention of the American Civic Association began here today with a good attendance of municipal officials and civic leaders from all parts of the country. President J. Horace McFarland called the gathering to order and will preside over the three days' session. The program calls for an exhaustive discussion of city planning with special reference to the problems of the small cities and towns. Other matters that will receive attention are the billboard and smoke nuisance, markets and market places and the extermination of the house fly.

ICE CREAM MANUFACTURERS CONVENTION AT DALLAS

Dallas, Texas, Nov. 19.—More than five hundred members of the National Association of Ice Cream Manufacturers, representing every section of the country, were on hand today at the opening of the annual convention of the association. Mayor Holland welcomed the visitors and response was made by Edwin C. Sutton of Buffalo, president of the association. The convention will conclude Thursday.

TO ADDRESS RETAILERS ON THE PARCELS POST

Senator Jonathan Bourne of Oregon
Given Subject—Nagel on Sherman Anti-Trust Law.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 19.—With a "square deal for the small retail merchants" as their slogan, one thousand representatives of the retail trade throughout the country assembled at the Planters' Hotel in this city for the first annual convention of the National Federation of Retail Merchants. The retailers object to having the blame for the high cost of living laid at their doors and the convention will probably register a strong protest.

Martin J. Maloney of Detroit, is presiding over the convention sessions, which will continue three days. Senator Jonathan Bourne of Oregon, father of the parcels post, is scheduled to discuss that subject before the convention. Another prominent speaker on the program is Charles Nagel, secretary of commerce and labor, who is to talk about the amendments to the Sherman anti-trust law.

TAYLOR OFFERS BELOIT CHANCE TO HAVE REASSESSMENT IF THE PRESENT FIGURES DO NOT HOLD

INTERESTING DEBATE BEFORE ADJOURNED SESSION OF THE COUNTY ON LINE CITY'S TAXES.

EXPLAINED METHODS

In Securing Figures Upon Which to Base His Final Adjustment of the Proper Tax Beloit
Should Pay.

Denying that he had in any way been discriminatory in the matter of fixing the true valuation of property in the various county tax districts, and declaring that he would even go so far as to assist Beloit in securing a reassessment if they are dissatisfied with his figures, Supervisor of Assessments E. A. Taylor addressed the county supervisors this morning on the equalization matter.

The city of Beloit, objecting to the boost in true valuation for apportionment purposes, was represented by Mayor L. E. Cunningham, City Attorney H. W. Adams, and F. P. Starr of this city, as well as a dozen other Beloit business men, including: Geo. B. Ingersoll, J. A. Janviri, L. D. Forbes, G. A. Dowd, J. F. Muenchow, L. B. Lyons, W. C. Weirick, J. M. Farnsworth, F. E. Livemore, C. A. Smith, Harvey Bailey, E. G. Fifield and H. A. van Oven.

On Committee's Report.

Owing to the congested conditions of the county clerk's office the meeting was adjourned to the circuit court rooms and the report of the equalization committee was read by Chairman L. E. Gettle, who moved its adoption. The discussion which followed was incident to this motion. The committee's report was signed by the entire membership of the committee except Simon Smith of Beloit and W. W. Swingle of the town of Newark.

Mr. Smith, started the matter by explaining his reasons for not signing the committee's report. He said that he did not believe that the figures were just and that he was backed by the Beloit business men, who have representatives there to present their case. He asked the board to allow City Attorney Adams to speak, which was granted.

Mr. Adams, after reading the law in relation to the matter of assessments, said that the Beloit men were there to hear an explanation from Mr. Taylor as to how he arrived at the true valuation of Beloit, which placed the total over six millions higher than the assessors' figures.

Mr. Taylor heard.

After some discussion in regard to the securing of a court report, Mr. Taylor was heard. He went into the matter at some length defending his action in the Beloit case. He explained away the real estate valuation by very simply saying that he had instructions from the state tax commission to use their figures which are based on actual sales of real estate in the various districts covering periods of five years.

In taking up the matter farther, especially with relation to the assessment of the merchants' and manufacturers' stock concerning which there is the greatest amount of discussion, Mr. Taylor said: "I claim that I have been absolutely impartial in this matter, gentlemen. I have looked into the facts carefully and I have not discriminated against any man or any district. The discrimination has been in another quarter, and I don't propose to mince matters."

Mr. Taylor went on to say what condition the assessment figures were in on the Beloit assessment roll. In talking the matter over with the city assessors he found that the attitude was simply, "protect the manufacturers' stock." The assessors could not get the statements of the city assessors and again and again he urged them times without number.

Keep Values Down.

"I finally told the Beloit men that if they didn't get the figures for the manufacturers' stock reassessment, Mr. O'Neal, who by the way is a partner of Mr. Livemore, and is a city assessor, said that the Beloit people would like to bear the burden of the assessment themselves and let their manufacturers go with light assessments. I wrote Mr. O'Neal that this would be a flagrant violation of the law and would bring serious consequences." Mr. Taylor submitted the letter that he wrote to Mr. O'Neal to the board.

Continuing, Mr. Taylor pointed out that at the meeting of the board of review of the city of Beloit there had been no valuation fixed on the Beloit manufacturers' stock and as a result the matter was put with the tax commission and secured from them the valuation which, he said, was $3,901,673. The commission secured these figures, Mr. Taylor said, from the income tax returns.

Cut Down $901,000.

"I cut off the $901,000," said Mr. Taylor, "and called it three million. Is that discrimination? The figures of the Beloit assessors placed the valuation at $683,700."

Mr. Taylor was interrupted on one occasion by Supervisor Rossow of Beloit who asked him if he thought he knew more about a merchant's business than the merchant himself. Mr. Taylor said he would not answer any impertinent questions. He replied to a number of inquiries which were made.

Before the board adjourned, to meet again at one o'clock, Mr. Starr, employed by Beloit as a tax expert, stated that he had a list of questions to put to Mr. Taylor and that none of them were impertinent.

Is Closely Questioned.

Much of the afternoon session up to three o'clock was occupied by a questioning of Mr. Taylor in regard to the methods which he employed in securing the true valuations of Beloit merchants' and manufacturers' stock. Mr. Adams city attorney, was especially insistent that Mr. Taylor reply to a long string of questions. "Did you merely take the tax commission's figure in determining the value of the manufacturers' stock? What do the returns on income tax assessment include? Is not real estate included in the inventory value?" Were some of the questions asked.

Mr. Taylor in replying said that he could state what the figures were that he received from the tax commission. He had made it clear to them what he was after and they had no reason to suppose that he wanted the value of the real estate and improvements of the various manufacturing companies for those figures were included in the real estate figures which the commission ordered him to take. He had every reason to suppose that the returns made to him were on the manufacturers' stock alone.

Public Utilities.

The matter of the public utility assessments was brought by Mr. Adams, who used the Beloit Water, Gas and Electric company especially. The appraisal made by the railroad commission in 1911, on this company placed the valuation at $815,000, he said, while Mr. Taylor put it at $1,200,000. Mr. Taylor stated that after going over the matter carefully he had made his returns to the tax commission and they had reported to him that his report was "very good indeed." They commented especially on the equitable valuation of public service companies and Mr. Taylor read that part of the letter from the commission.

The exact manner of securing the local assessment, it was hinted by Mr. Adams that Mr. Taylor should have gone around with the local assessors to the various factories. Mr. Taylor replied that his time was very much limited indeed owing to the increased burden of assessing incomes and all he could do was to urge Beloit assessors to be more diligent. He had offered, however, to go with them if necessary but they had refused saying that that would be the worst possible thing to do.

Merchants' Stock.

The matter of merchants' stock was brought up and Mr. Taylor explained his method of securing the true valuation of that. In Beloit he had taken 15 cases for inspection either personally or through reference to the income tax report blank. The assessors' values for the fifteen cases was $93,522 and the values he determined were $180,428. He took this ratio as a basis for increasing the total merchants' stock from $834,000 to $1,241,000. The same ratio was done in Janesville seventeen cases being considered.

There were frequent interruptions to ask questions and the case seemed to be progressing very slowly. Some of the Beloit business men interposed with statement and questions. They were given every courtesy by Mr. Taylor and the board members. It was impossible to judge just what the outcome would be. It was possible that the board might close the matter summarily adopting the committee's report, or that they might continue their investigation which might end in a reassessment. The latter alternative seemed exceedingly probable.

TELLS OF RELATIONS WITH MAN SHE SHOT

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Columbus, O., Nov. 19.—Before a crowd that filled to capacity the criminal court room Cecilia Farley, the stenographer in a state office who on Friday charged with murder in the first degree for the alleged killing of Alvin E. Zolinger, an advertising solicitor, told of her relations with the man whom she claims was accidentally shot. At many times looking squarely into the eyes of the jurors the pretty stenographer blushing, told of how she met Zolinger at a public dance hall, how he became infatuated with her; that she did not know he was a married man, and of how the advertising solicitor finally wronged her at her home one night while she was caring for her brothers and sisters, while her parents had gone to the theatre.

HALL & HUEBEL

HOME MISSION WEEK IS TO BE OBSERVED

Gathering to be Held on Thursday Evening at Congregational Church.

Thursday evening at the Congregational church the Baptist, Methodist, Congregational and the Presbyterian churches will hold a joint meeting considering the relation of church organization to community welfare.

This meeting is held in accordance with suggestions which have come from the co-operating Home Mission agencies of the country. For three months the churches of the country have been centering their interests on home missionary education thus creating a home missionary atmosphere throughout the country. The topics which have been considered during this period are suggestive of the wide interest which the church has in our social welfare.

Negroes and Indians, Spanish Americans, The Frontier, Country Life, City Life, Women and Children in Industry, The Saloon, Social Conditions, The Church as a Social Force, The Church as a Spiritual Force are some of the matters which indicate the direction in which the church is sending her energy and life.

One can readily see that old time methods and appeals are out of date; and one can readily see that the hidebound sectarian who has no interest in anything outside of his denomination cannot answer the demands of the present hour. It is not any wonder that the thoughtful man of the century has little or no time for questions of creed and ritualism. Other things seem so vastly pressing the little old womanly mothers of other bygone days are quite out of the question. How beautiful this Home Mission Week demonstrates the church's ability to adapt herself to the times in which she lives. And how marvelously adequate she is to meet the requirements of her age. Here are twenty million people working for the country's welfare without money and without price. Where is there such another army? And who that has the good of society at heart can hold his co-operation and support.

To the meeting next Thursday evening at the Congregational church everybody is cordially invited.

RICHARD F. FINLEY IS GIVEN HEARING

Council Gives Him Opportunity to Show Cause Why His License Should Not Be Revoked.

Opportunity was given Richard F. Finley, convicted by a jury about two weeks ago of selling liquor to Joseph Graebner and Philip Hudson, minor blind boys at the State Institute for the Blind, on Saturday, September 14, to appear before the city council this afternoon and show cause why his license should not be revoked. At its last meeting the council instructed the city clerk to issue the necessary summons after receiving and placing on file the complaint and allegations of Chief of Police Appleby. The council will undoubtedly proceed to declare the license of Finley revoked unless the attorneys for Mr. Finley attack the proceedings as illegal.

Little other business was brought up this afternoon. The superintendent of streets was ordered to build a crosswalk across the alley at the rear of lot 8 in the Glenetta addition on the east side of Garfield avenue, and another across East street on the north side of Oakland avenue. The city clerk was ordered to draw an order on the city treasury payable from the Fourth avenue bridge fund in favor of the Central States Bridge company in the sum of $483.30, the amount due the company after deducting $16.70, the amount due the city for cement and labor in loading machinery. The city treasurer was directed to transfer this sum from the Fourth avenue bridge fund to the general fund. The clerk was directed to draw an order for $1.12 in favor of D. E. McCarthy for his services as juror in the case of the city versus Finley.

THIRTY THOUSAND IS ATTENDANCE FIGURE

Prizes Awarded at the Gazette Booth During the "Made in Janesville Week."

The estimate on the number of people in attendance at the Merchants' and Manufacturers' exhibit at the Auditorium is placed by competent judges in excess of 30,000, and the Gazette's offer for the nearest estimate shows that the first three people giving the nearest correct estimate as follows:

First estimate reaching the Gazette booth was that of Henry Koschin, 212 South Main street as 30,000 who is entitled to a year's subscription to the Daily Gazette. The second to W. O'Connor, 208 Lincoln street, as 30,000, box of printed stationery. The third, Hattie Sivert, or rural route eight, Janesville, receives one dollar worth of classified advertising on his estimate of 30,000. These people have been notified of their success and the fact that approximately 3,000 estimates were received in the Gazette booth demonstrates the interest that was taken in the proposition.

MAJESTIC THEATRE SUFFERS FIRE LOSS

Damaged to Extent of About $190 by Blaze in Compartment of Motion Picture Machine Operator.

What threatened to be a serious and destructive fire was averted only last night through the prompt work of the fire department in extinguishing a blaze that originated in the motion picture compartment of the Majestic theatre occupied by the motion picture machine and its operator, Harry Austin. In some manner, not definitely known, but thought to be a failure to drop a protective shutter, the film in the machine was ignited by the heat of the arc light. As soon as he saw the flames burst out, Mr. Austin at once seized the fire extinguisher near him but it failed to work. He then grasped the flaming reel of film and attempted to tear it from the machine. In doing so his hands and forearms were badly burned.

Before the fire, alarm had ceased ringing the hook and ladder truck from the west side station had arrived and a ladder had been set up in front of the building, and within three minutes after the alarm was sounded a chemical extinguisher was being used on the fire. The contents of one extinguisher were sufficient to put out the blaze. Two lines of hose were run from the hydrant at the corner of River and Milwaukee streets, but it was not found necessary to throw any water on the flames. The fire did not escape from the operator's compartment except through ventilators at the front where there was nothing inflammable except a wooden sign. The compartment is enclosed in sheet-iron.

The damage caused by the fire is estimated by Earl Brown, the proprietor, to be about $190. The two films destroyed, one new and one four weeks old, were valued at $125 and are not insured. The machine was damaged to the extent of about $25 and the damage to the building is estimated at $40. Eighteen caskets belonging to the undertaking firm of W. H. Ashcraft, and stored in a room over the theatre were seriously damaged by the heavy black smoke that came through the floor. The insurance underwriters estimate the damage at $500. The caskets which were white were very much blackened.

It would be possible to get the motion picture ready for operation tonight but Mr. Brown will have the operators compartment refitted with asbestos and sheet steel and put in fire shutters all around. These will be hung on fusible fastenings so that the heat of a fire would automatically close them. Although the fire occurred at seven o'clock last night, before an audience had gathered for a show, there would have been no danger if it had occurred later unless a panic would ensue. The theatre has four exits, all of which were passable.

ANNOUNCES HIS SUBJECTS FOR THE WEEK'S SERVICES.

Evangelist Gibson at United Brethren Church is Giving Some Fine Addresses.

Rev. J. Walter Gibson the "Hoosier Evangelist" who is conducting services at the United Brethren church, will speak tonight from the subject, "A Prayer in Hell."

Wednesday night his subject will be "Eternity," and on Thursday night the subject will be "Judgment."

On Friday afternoon at three o'clock there will be a service for women only. No girls under 16 years of age will be admitted to this service. Mr. Gibson says he has an important message for the women of Janesville.

ARRANGE THE PLANS OF COMING EXHIBIT

Southern Wisconsin Poultry Association Plan Great Show in January Next.

Janesville will be placed on the chicken fanciers' map of the middle west next January when the Southern Wisconsin Poultry association exhibit of fine fowls opens at the auditorium. At a meeting held last evening in the library of the Gazette office, plans were discussed and arrangements made for the biggest exhibit yet undertaken by the association. Not only will it be bigger and better than ever, but the prizes offered will be sufficient to attract some of the big exhibitors all over the country. William McVicar is president; Will Ashcraft, vice president; E. H. Green, secretary; F. E. Lane, show secretary; and Harry Sheldon and Edward Amerpoll, the show superintendents. It was decided to advance the entry fees from thirty-five to fifty cents and to give larger purses in various classes. One of the purses already arranged for is $25 in the Barred Rock classes. It was also decided to issue more of the treasury stock, considerable being subscribed last night by the members present, and indications are that by the time the show opens the club will have a membership of five hundred. Efforts will be made to interest chicken fanciers in the organization and those who are not members now will be invited to join or are requested to notify Mr. Green of their intention. Taking it all in all, the week of January 13th promises to be a red letter one in the annals of chicken shows for Janesville. The premium list will be issued shortly; many demands having already been received from fanciers in other states who plan to exhibit their birds in the leading shows of the country.

Tot Pendleton, the Princeton football and baseball star, appears to be very much in demand among the big league clubs. Manager Griffith of Washington wants him and it is said Pendleton has agreed to go with the Senators, as soon as he finishes Princeton next summer. Now it turns up that several other big league managers have made offers to Pendleton and are fishing for him in 1913.

Report has it that William Locke, the popular secretary of the Pittsburgh Pirates, is the man who will succeed Horace Fogel at the head of the Philadelphia Nationals, the Phillies having been purchased by a syndicate which has practically agreed to employ Locke for 1913.

rule. Too many minor league teams have been losing money. Unless baseball is a paying proposition in the smaller towns it soon will not be in the larger ones, for it is from the minors that the big leagues draw their material. CAPITAL CITY TEAM REFUSES TO PLAY

Madison High School Eleven Refuses to Meet Janesville Squad in Game.

Madison's football team has refused to meet Janesville. They overlooked the fact that the local team defeated Jefferson 41 to 0, and that they only defeated them by a score of 51 to 0. Janesville did this with the absence of Falter, the star halfback. Nevertheless Janesville is after other good teams and may force Madison into a game before the end of the season. Madison states it considers a game with Janesville a good practice one, and refuses to listen to the challenge. Janesville believes it can defeat Madison and if given the chance will prove the fact.

REHBERG'S

"The Men's Store" Is Selling Good Overcoats at $14.75

WE have arranged to give patrons the benefit of months of close study of economies in clothing construction effecting a saving of at least $5.00 on Overcoats that the most particular man can wear with satisfaction. We base values in comparison with those elsewhere at $20. There are snappy, dashy models for the younger men and quieter styles for men of quiet taste. You are not limited to one or two styles—there's every popular style—single or double breasted, convertible or velvet collar, plain or belted back—strictly all-wool, heavy kerseys and fancy mixtures, all sizes 34 to 44, everyone guaranteed by Rehberg to render perfect service. Overcoats that will cost you $20 outside of $14.75 "The Men's Store" . . .

Here's Our $19.75 Overcoat Proposition.

The same methods pursued in securing our wonderful values in Overcoats at $14.75 have won equal success for our $19.75 line. We give you a $25 Overcoat for $19.75. We make the statement guardedly knowing that there are some wonderful good overcoat values in the regular $25 lines this season. You'll find, however, that our $19.75 overcoats will fit as neatly, are equally stylish, equally well made and that the cloths are as good. Belted or plain backs—single or double breasted garments—shawl or convertible collar or the staple lapels. All the newest rough and smooth fabrics—many good colorings, sizes 34 to 44. Scores of nobby patterns to select from $19.75 at Storm King high collar Sweater Coats, $3.50, $5.00 to $7.00; medium weights, $2 and $2.50; Street Gloves, standard makes, $1.00 and $1.50. Full shape Scarfs, a Saturday special at 50c. Others at 35c and 25c. $1.50 Silk Four-in-hands at $1.00. Union Suits, medium and extra weights, well known makes, $1.00, worth a half more.

Style and quality, a maximum of both in Rehberg hats at $3.00 and in our Elk Hats at $2; they're "balanced" productions in every way. Our display of fine hats knows no equal in Janesville for size, variety, for correctness. Exceptional values now at $2.50.

You can expect great values in this shoe department of ours, we've aimed to give them and we've succeeded and you can expect conscientious and careful fitting—the kind that means comfort. Special values in hundreds of styles, men's and women's, $3, $3.50, $4, and $5. Dr. Reed's Cushion Shoe, $5 and $5.50.

Men's Suits At $14.75

In looking for a winter suit don't hesitate to look over our $14.75 line, because the price is low. You'll be surprised at the excellence of the materials and the handsomely stylish cut of the garments. We figured closely and bought the fabrics direct from the mill. That's the reason we are able to put a $14.75 price mark on them. Variety of neat mixtures, sizes 35 to 44; regulars and stouts, $14.75

Young Men's Suits $14.75

The smartness of these suits is quickly noted by the young man who wants something distinctive, something stylish and snappy. The designer kept in mind the tastes of the younger men—picked the fabrics with them in mind—cut the garments just a little different, making them a little more swagger, plenty of light and dark mixtures, also plain. Best suits for youthful dressers, at $14.75

THE PRODIGAL GIRL.
"Here's a little poem," from the "Child's Welfare Bulletin," that should stimulate the home to safeguard the daughter with jealous care:
We all have a heart for the prodigal boy
Who was caught in sin's mad whirl,
And we welcome him back with his songs of joy—
But what of the prodigal girl?
For the prodigal boy there's an open door,
And a father's bounteous fare;
And though he is wretched, and sick, and poor,
He is sure of a welcome there.
But what of a girl who has gone astray?
Who has lost in the battle with sin?
Say, do we forgive in the same sweet way
We've always forgiven him?
Does the open door stand ajar, as if to say,
"Come, enter, you need not fear;
I've been open thus since you went away,
Now close to the second year."
Or do we, with hand of hellish pride,
Close and bolt the door,
And swear, "While heaven and earth abide,
She will enter here no more?"
O Christ, it seems we have never learned.
The lesson taught in the sand,
For even yet the woman is spurned,
And stoned in a Christian land.
Down in the slough we hurl her back,
Then turn around with a smile,
And welcome the boy from the sinful track,
Though he may have been more vile.
We all have a heart for the prodigal boy,
Who was caught in sin's mad whirl,
And we welcome him back with songs of joy—
But what of the prodigal girl?

EXIT PRESIDENT TAFT.
"Mr. Taft's retirement from the presidential office would be humiliating to him but for the consolation that he finds in the fact that by running he made certain the defeat of Mr. Roosevelt. Whatever may be the reasons for the personal hostility between the president and the ex-president, there is no doubt that each one felt justified in suffering defeat himself rather than permit the other to succeed. The democratic party is the immediate beneficiary of this personal hostility but the country is the gainer, for the disruption of the republican party will result in an advance that was not possible otherwise. Mr. Taft has done a number of things which reflect credit upon his administration, but he has failed so signally to trust the people and to recognize the trend of progressive sentiment that his good deeds are likely to be overlooked by his political shortcomings. He is an honest man, a well-meaning man, and personally a lovable man; but all these qualities fail to satisfy when he stands in the way of a people's progress. However much one may dissent from the conclusion that the people reach, he is not justified in opposing the popular will when that will is constitutionally expressed. The people may make mistakes, but they have a right to make mistakes. No one can claim the right to make mistakes for them. Mr. Taft's failure to satisfy the demands of the people will be a lesson to those who come after him. But in spite of the monumental reverse he has suffered, he will carry into private life the personal good will of a multitude who voted against him. They will wish him long life, health and prosperity."

This is Mr. Bryan's estimate of President Taft. The criticism contained was often heard during the campaign. It will lose significance, as time passes, for the retiring president will grow in the hearts of the people, when what he accomplished is more generally recognized.
"The American people are impulsive. The defeat of the republican party was not due to President Taft's candidacy, but to an impulsive organization, which rent it in twain, inspired by an impulsive leader. The old party, under any leader, would have met the same fate.
Mr. Bryan, as well as Mr. Wilson, recognizes this fact. The democratic party was practically without organization, in many of the northern states, and Mr. Wilson's plurality was largely augmented by republican votes. President Taft is not responsible for the combination of circumstances which defeated him, and history will record that he was a great man, as well as a good president.

PROMPT ACTION.
The city of Appleton is under commission government, and the same problems are being threshed out, which now confront our own city, as will be seen by the following news item from the "Appleton Post."
"The city commissioners this morning revoked the liquor license of Joseph Grieshaber, east College avenue, having no alternative in the matter. The four boys to whom liquor was sold pleaded guilty in municipal court to having entered the Grieshaber saloon and having purchased beer there, and Mr. Grieshaber frankly admitted to the commissioners having sold them beer, saying that he asked them if they were 21 years of age and they replied in the affirmative. However, with this frank confession of guilt before them, the commissioners, in view of the unequivocal wording of the law, could do nothing else than revoke the accused man's license. It must be said for Mr. Grieshaber that his reputation as a saloon-keeper has always been good. Were there more like him engaged in the liquor traffic there would be less reason for the authorities to keep such a close watch."

The article on good roads, signed "One Who Knows," which appeared in last night's paper, can hardly be considered an apology for existing conditions, as the sentiment expressed is defensive. The roads of the county need no defense, because they speak for themselves. There is a lack somewhere in intelligent construction. The responsibility is shifted from the town board to the highway committee, and from the latter to the contractor, and the contractor seems to be a law unto himself. Just where the county supervisor of roads comes in, is difficult to determine, to say nothing about state supervision. There is a chance for improvement, all along the line.

The democratic party soon to assume control of the national government is already besieged by a hungry board of patriots, who have a consuming ambition to feed at the public crib. Out in Oklahoma a democratic paper estimates that a thousand fat positions are waiting in the Indian Service, and in all parts of the country the "ants" are rejoicing over the prospects of getting "in." The game of football isn't in it, compared to the rush and general scramble that will come after the fourth of next March, and the new president is likely to have a lively session.
The ravages of cholera in the Turkish army are more frightful than the ravages of war and the quiet surrender of the Ottoman Empire is not a surprise. The dread disease is likely to run its course and the death roll will be very heavy. The afflicted people are entitled to practical sympathy. The Red Cross societies are doing all in their power to relieve suffering. They should be generally aided in the humane work.

The 3,000,000 republican voters, who divided their strength between the republican and progressive parties, in the late election, thus assuring democratic victory, will have time for a little sober thinking, during the next four years, and the chances are that they will get together where they belong. There is no great chasm between them, as no great principle is involved. The individual was exalted at the expense of the party, but individual popularity is short lived, while parties endure.

The recent failure of a private bank in Chicago, has aroused the state to the need of a law regulating this class of institutions. It is surprising that the people of this great commonwealth have so long neglected this important measure. A state bank is the custodian of trust funds, the same as a national bank, and there is no reason why it should not be under the same careful supervision.

The New One.
Have you seen the new derby,
The one that is flat
And looks like a fried egg
Instead of a hat?
But still the hatmakers
Are nowise afraid:

Ode to Our False Teeth.
Our sets of false teeth is a prize,
Were able now to Fletcherize;
And we are not confined to soup,
We do things now we couldn't do before.
We can be biting too
When to sarcastic talk we stoop.

It ain't no fun to go and sit
Down to a banquet, not a bit,
When you have no way fer to chew.
It makes a feller jealous, quite,
To see the other fellers bite—
The jealousiest you ever saw.

Our new false teeth make quite a bit
With us. There's not a doubt of it.
They're very handy things to own.
We take 'em out with greatest ease
And wear 'em just when we darned please.
Quite fond of them we've really grown.

They are a very pretty sight;
When they are in the glass at night
I love to sit and watch 'em shine.
They have a warm place in my heart
I tell you what, I'll never part
With them there chiny teeth of mine.

It almost moves a man to tears
When he's been gumm'ing it for years
To know he's found a friend at last.
That he kin up and be quite rash
And order steak instid of hash
And that his gruel days are past.

DR. PRICE'S
Cream Baking Powder
Has a dietetic value greatly beyond the conception of anyone who has not used it. It will make your food of a delicious taste, a moist and keeping quality, and a digestibility not to be obtained from other baking powders or leavening agents.
But more important than all else, Dr. Price's Baking Powder, being a pure, cream of tartar powder, carries only healthful qualities to the food—no alum, no lime phosphate.
It is noticeable that the advertisements of the low priced (10c., 15c., 20c., 25c. per pound) baking powders give no information as to ingredients. The fact that such powders are made from alum is stubbornly concealed, their proprietors going so far as to issue prohibitory contracts against exposure in the newspapers.
Is this because the alum people know that publicity would stop their business? Of course no prudent housekeeper would use an article of food in which she learned there had been concealed an unhealthful ingredient.

Enormous stocks constantly passing in and out of the Big Store. "You keep turning your stocks so rapidly that nothing ever remains long enough to lose the lustre of its freshness," remarked a visitor the other day. That's true. We don't believe in lingering conditions. We operate during the Christmas season as we do throughout the other periods of the year. Stocks must sell rapidly. And they do. We have what the greatest number of people want, and we price everything in a way that meets with the promptest appropriation of the largest number of shoppers. That policy has been followed unswervingly ever since the store opened. Moreover, we extend to our customers every shopping comfort and facility. If any fault crops up we immediately endeavor to rectify it. If it escapes our observation for the time being we feel under obligation to whoever brings it to our attention. By so doing we are constantly making our organization and service more perfect. We go into the world's best markets for the best merchandise. We spare no money to make the store attractive. We shop at nothing legitimate to make you a more frequent patron. A visit to the Big Store at any time will convince you.
Do your Christmas shopping early this year.

ADJOURN MURDER CASE OVER TO WEDNESDAY

TRIAL OF MEYER AND BERGER IN CIRCUIT COURT WAS ADJOURNED UNTIL WEDNESDAY.

NEW VENIRE ORDERED

After List of Special Veniremen Had Been Exhausted in Today's Proceedings, Court Ordered New Venire of Seventy.

Five Men.

With a list of eleven possible jurors selected from the regular panel of thirty-six more, Judge Grimm in circuit court this morning adjourned the trial of the State of Wisconsin against Harry F. Berger and Edward Meyer on the two counts of murder and of criminal assault until half past ten o'clock tomorrow morning and ordered Clerk of the Court Jesse Earle to draw another special venire of seventy-five men from the rest of the jury to hear the case may be drawn.

Of the thirty-six men drawn in the special venire six were selected as possible jurors, six were excused for the rest of the term because of pressing business, which they must attend to personally, several were excused until Thursday morning at nine o'clock to allow them to arrange business matters, and the rest with the exception of one who was absent were excused until Monday afternoon at two o'clock because of admitted prejudice in the case.

Those excused until Thursday morning, with, however, probably be excused later when they report. Of the eleven jurors on the list now it is not known how many will remain as the attorneys in the case have thus far struck but three names from the list, and the prosecution has the privilege of striking seventeen more names, while the defense may strike thirty-four more names.

The eleven men named as possible jurors as the result of yesterday and today's examination of the regular and special venire list are: Ellsworth Caldo, Johnston; Frank Davis, Center; William Seaver, 5th Ward, Beloit; H. B. Walker, 4th Ward, Beloit; Fred Dockhorn, Bradford; R. H. Clinchey, 4th Ward, Beloit; W. D. Kensie, 2nd Ward, Beloit; W. L. Austin, 4th Ward, Beloit; William Magill, 4th Ward, Beloit; George Rea, Edgerton; and S. G. Strong, 2nd Ward, Beloit.

Frank Blazer, 1st Ward, Beloit; W. W. Swingle, Tule; Herman Lechtus, 1st Ward, Janesville; T. E. Prindle, 2nd Ward, Beloit; Frank Young, Parker; and F. H. Williams, 2nd Ward, Beloit, were excused for the term. F. A. Merrill, summoned by mistake for Albert Merrill, was also excused. Thomas H. Steele, Union and Joseph Ross, Avon, members of the county board, were excused until after the supervisors and their special session.

Others excused for various reasons until later in the present term were: Edward Backe, Janesville; C. J. Mills; Beloit; D. G. Smith, Clinton; Fred Myhr, Janesville; W. J. Clark, Harmony; H. O. Natesa, Clinton; James Vincent, Milton; F. H. Storey, Milton village; F. L. Hull, Milton Junction; W. V. Henry, Bradford; G. L. Scott, Bradford; Walter Little, Janesville; O. T. Rynning, Plymouth; Rush Kilam, Lima; H. P. Tower, Beloit; Howard C. Clithero, Janesville; S. A. Gillman, St. Beloit; Burr Tolles, Evansville; Frank Korn, Janesville; C. A. Ramey, Spring Valley, was absent.

The court was in session on the case only about an hour and a half this morning, the time being occupied with swearing in the special venire, excusing members who were unable to attend this term of court, and in the examination of jurors by the attorneys in the case. When the list of special veniremen had been exhausted the judge and the attorneys held a brief consultation, after which the court announced adjournment of the trial until tomorrow morning, excused those not drawn as jurors in this case until next Monday afternoon and issued instructions to the clerk of court.

But little interest in the trial has been manifested thus far by the public. There were few in the court rooms this morning besides the officers of the court veniremen attorneys and relatives of the young men on trial while in the examination in the municipal court the crowd that gathered, packed the court chambers to the doors. A greater part of the time tomorrow will probably be given over to the selection of the jury.

BRIEF LOCAL NEWS.

Gave Card Party: Members of Circle No. 8 of St. Patrick's church gave a card party at the home of Mrs. E. J. Schmidley, yesterday afternoon. First honors were awarded to Mrs. W. T. Dooley and Mrs. Valentine Weber won second prize. Mrs. D. W. Hayes succeeded in winning the lucky number prize. Luncheon was served late in the afternoon.

Sewer Pipe All Laid: Gray, Robinson & Company, the Manitowoc contractors, will have the last of the sewer pipe laid by tonight, and will finish up the work they contracted to do by the end of the week. Their crew of laborers is at work on Logan street and the rate of progress made has been much greater than was anticipated. City laborers will this afternoon start digging a trench for the four hundred foot sewer to be laid from the corner of McKee Boulevard and Eastern avenue to the river.

Episcopal Men: The Brotherhood of the Baptist church, will hold its regular meeting this evening at the church dining room. The general topic for discussion is "The Young People of Janesville." Roger Cunningham will act as leader. The ladies of the Helpful Circle will serve luncheon.

Certain Old School Books.

The state board urges that all old school books be sterilized and tells how it can be done to the damage of the bacteria, but not to the books. We suppose it is right. It is better that children live healthfully than that so time honored an institution as the combination school book and towel survive.—Toledo Blade.

The barometer is high throughout the Southwest and Southern United States, while at series of low barometer is moving eastward through the Canadian Provinces. The downflowing currents of the former, and the southerly drafts of the latter combine to produce fair weather with moderate temperatures throughout the country. The rainfall reported during the past 24 hours has fallen on the coast of Oregon and Washington, where the winter rains have set in. There is no indication of a change in the weather during the next day or two, and fair weather with moderate temperatures may therefore be expected to continue in this vicinity tonight and Wednesday.

Various Forms of Hiccough.

Allied to the rare forms of nervous hiccough there is also the emotional hiccough, which arises in connection with a moral shock, severe fright and sudden emotion, the hiccough due to irritation and hysterical hiccough. The latter is a particularly noisy form, with a rough, coarse sound. It is sometimes a sort of jerping or barking noise, persisting for some minutes or even hours.

For Tired Feet.

When your feet ache, caused by long standing, exercise them by rising first to the toes, then on the heels, in a rocking motion for a few times. This was advised by a specialist—Woman's Home Companion.

Pretty Party Frocks and Gowns At a Saving of One-third---Sample Lines

The party season is almost at hand and with it the need of pretty frocks and gowns.

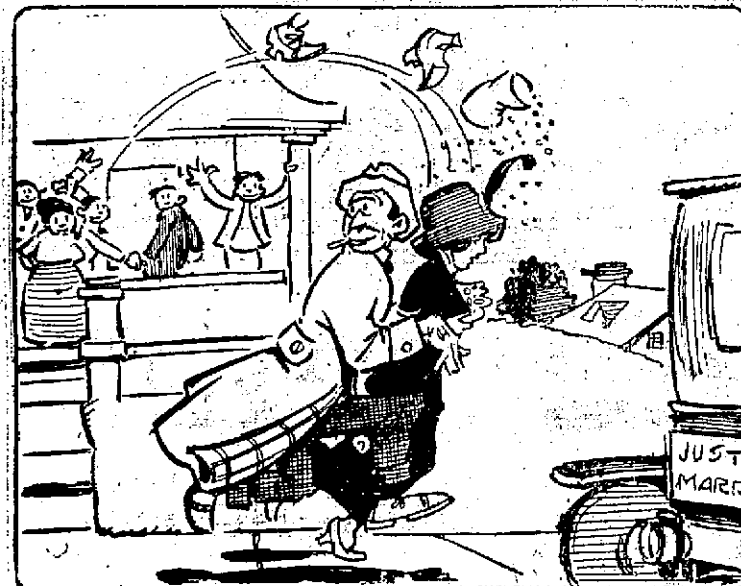

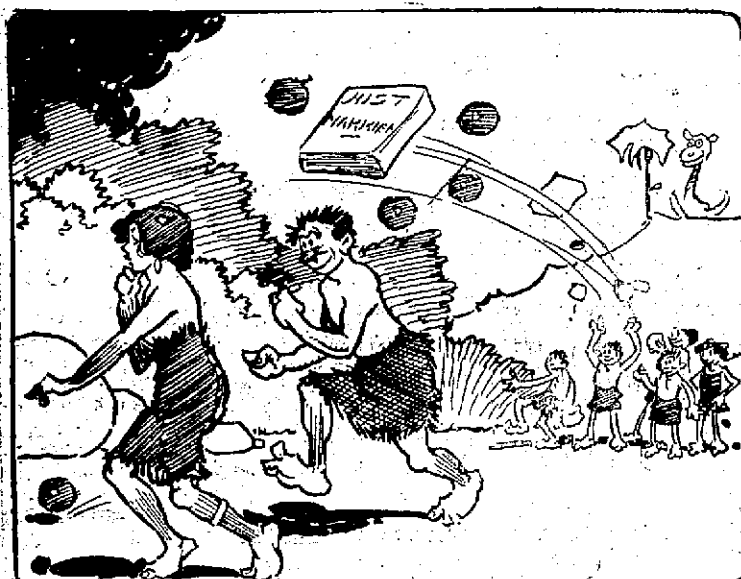

This store always has led in showing the largest line of fine frocks and gowns at reasonable prices.

Now comes the best offer of all: We've purchased the largest two sample lines out of New York and are offering them at a reduction of one-third, 33 1/3 per cent less than you can buy them for anywhere else.

Call and see this line; it is worthy of a visit even if you do not buy.

If you want one of these gowns or frocks you'd better come early this week, because they won't last long at the reduced prices.

CATHOLIC FORESTERS
HAD ENTERTAINMENT

Enjoyed Social at St. Mary's Hall
Last Evening—Music and Addresses on Program.

Entertainment of a varied character was provided members of St. Joseph's Court, No. 223, Catholic Order of Foresters, and their friends at St. Mary's hall last evening. The musical part of the program consisted of a song by the choir of St. Mary's church, and a tenor solo by A. J. Hanasaka. St. Peter gave an address on "Forestry," State Secretary L. P. Fox of Chilton on "Fraternities Insurance," and Deputy High Chief Ranger A. L. Nussbaum of Madison spoke on the subject of "Roman Catholic Education." Cards were played following the literary program, prizes being awarded to Mrs. Tuttle, L. Bier, and Philip Reuss. Supper was then served in the hall dining room. The evening's entertainment closed with dancing, Professor Thiele and Gray furnishing the music.

LAKOTA CLUB ARRANGING FOR ITS ANNUAL DANCE

Committee of Five Appointed to Take Up Matter of Meeting Held Last Evening.

First steps toward the making of plans for the annual dancing party of the Lakota club were made last evening at the regular meeting of the club when a committee of five was appointed to make all necessary arrangements. The dance will be held on the evening of December 26, the night after Christmas. Those appointed to the committee on arrangements were John McGee, George Caldwell, Frank Ryan, John Brown, and James Worthington. The Hatch orchestra has been engaged to play the dance music. In addition to the seven-piece orchestra, Mr. Hatch will provide a cello soloist from Milwaukee and a xylophone player from Freeport who has won favor here on previous engagements.

LECTURE BY DR. RANDOLPH
AT FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

Milton Pastor Gave Second Number of King's Daughters' Lecture
Course Last Evening.

Dr. L. C. Randolph of Milton, gave the second number of the lecture course under the auspices of the King's Daughters of the Baptist church last evening, speaking on the topic, "The Bright Side of Life in Four Continents." A large audience greeted the speaker and his lecture was greatly appreciated. The speaker has a fund of sound philosophy and irresistible humor that proved a great delight to his hearers, who were pleased to travel with him on his "Sunshine Route." Dr. Randolph also has a gift of personal magnetism as well as the ability to speak well, and the lecture was considered a rare treat.

GAVE INTERESTING TALK ON STATE OF MONTANA

Miss Grace Mount of the high school faculty gave a very interesting talk on the origin of the state of Montana to the student body at the high school this morning. She outlined the condition of the country since the days of the Indians and buffaloes, to the time when miners began to rampage the state in 1862. The Louisiana purchase and the Lewis and Clark journey up the Missouri river were features of her address. She will finish her address on Montana and its present conditions in the near future. The students listened with attentive ear to her address, and were quite interested.

WARLIKE MEMBER OF FIGHTING FAMILY

Prince Boris of Bulgaria.

The latest photograph of Prince Boris, son of King Ferdinand of Bulgaria, has just reached this country. Like his father and other members of the Bulgarian royal family, Prince Boris is of a warlike nature. It is expected that his father will proclaim himself emperor of the Balkans.

PARISIAN FASHION
IN WINTER COATS

The latest fashion in winter coats for women is made of chinchilla fur and trimmed with mink. The coat which is sleeveless, has a large collar and deep cuffs, and is made to conform to the shape. The noble effect prevents the cold from piercing the dainty ankles of the wearer.

Heart to Heart
Talks.

By EDWIN A. MYER.

MENTAL MIRAGES.

"Next winter," said my friend, "I am going to begin a course of special study."

I smiled. I knew my friend's weakness—a disposition to procrastinate. He was capable and sincere, but had formed the fatal habit of postponement.

Do you remember the venerable sexton in "Old Curiosity Shop," who always talked of doing things "next summer?"

It was characteristically human.

So many of us live in the perennial hope of "some day," some sweet, future day when we shall have time for improvement, when the rough ways shall be smoothed, when we shall begin to save or to make money, when we shall achieve some worthy end.

This is a mental mirage. Like the will-o'-the-wisp, it lures us on through bog and fen and foul morass, holding us back from the present, holding our hope for the future, and we follow on until—

The mirage rises.

Disillusion comes. No longer through the shifting kaleidoscope of our hopes do we see the feathery palm trees and the bright waters of the oasis of our fancy. The chance is gone. Grown too old or too weak for accomplishment, we are without satisfaction.

Do not wait for some day.

Some day is an illusion. If you would do good or be good, improve your mind or body, call on your neighbor or write your letters or begin your enterprise. It will be no easier tomorrow or the next day or some other day than today.

Do it today!

The disposition to "resolve and resolve, then die the same" is in all of us. So that if we are to get anywhere in the world we must get a move on—now!

Want to be more systematic in business, more useful to your friends, kinder to every one? Begin now.

Want to quit your bad habits, pay your bills more promptly, make better use of the chances that come your way? Begin now.

Lash your lazy soul to liveliness.

Today is the accepted time. Today is the day of accomplishment. Today if you hear the lure of the futile future harden your heart against it.

Wipe "tomorrow" off your lexicon.

Let the children follow to find the end of the rainbow. You are a grown-up. Your task is cut out for you. Go to it!

There never was such a thing as some day and never will be. There is only today.

POURING THE THIRD FLOOR

Long Spell of Good Weather Facilitates Construction on New Building—Putting Up Porches.

Long continued good weather is permitted steady progress, and good headway in the construction of the new Mercy hospital building. The walls have been built up to the third floor which is now being poured. A large steam concrete mixer is preparing the concrete which is drawn up in barrows by means of an elevator on the outside. Russell & Nichol, an Elgin firm of stone cutters are here chiseling the words "Mercy Hospital" on two slabs of Bedford stone which will be placed in the front wall near the top and over the front entrance. Porches are being put up at either end of the building, making two for each story in addition to the rear service porches. Window frames for the third story are already made.

CLUB WOMEN OF FLORIDA
ASSEMBLE AT PALM BEACH.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

West Palm Beach, Fla., Nov. 19.—This famous resort is thronged today with women from all over Florida, who have come here to participate in the eighteenth annual convention of the State Federation of Women's Clubs. The proceedings began this morning with a meeting of the board of directors. The remainder of the day was devoted to the work of organization, the exchange of greetings and the reception of annual reports from officers and committees. Business sessions and social features will carry the convention over until Thursday evening.

WILL SIMPLIFY INCOME
BLANKS FOR THE FARMER

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Madison, Wis., Nov. 19.—Within the next few days the state tax commission will begin outlining its plans for the collection of the income tax next year. Much of the preliminary work can be done before the legislature meets. It is understood that one of the changes which the commission is considering is a new kind of blank for farmers. It is proposed to make it simpler than the one originally designed, enabling the taxpayer to fill it out more readily.

UGH! HOW CHILDREN
HATE CASTOR OIL

TO CLEAN THE LITTLE ONE'S STOMACH, LIVER AND WASTE
—CLOGGED BOWELS GIVE GENTLE "SYRUP OF FIGS."

Look back at your childhood days. Remember the physic that mother insisted on—castor oil, calomel, cathartics. How you hated them, how you fought against taking them.

With our children it's different. The day of harsh physic is over. We don't force the liver and 30 feet of bowels now; we coax them. We have no dreaded after effects. Mothers who cling to the old form of physic simply don't realize what they do. The children's revolt is well-founded. Their little stomachs and tender bowels are injured by them.

If your child is fretful, peevish, half sick, stomach sour, breath feverish and its little system full of cold; has diarrhoea, sore throat, stomach-ache; doesn't eat or rest well—remember—look at the tongue, if coated, give a teaspoonful of Syrup of Figs; then don't worry, because you surely will have a well, smiling child in a few hours.

Syrup of Figs being composed entirely of luscious figs, senna and aromatics simply cannot be harmful. It sweetens the stomach, makes the liver active and thoroughly cleanses the little one's waste-clogged bowels. In a few hours all sour bile, undigested fermenting food and constipated waste matter gently moves on and out of the system without griping or nausea.

Directions for children of all ages, also for grown-ups, plainly printed on the package.

By all means get the genuine. Ask your druggist for the full name, "Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna," prepared by the California Fig Syrup Co.

MAKES SUGGESTIONS TO RURAL TEACHERS

Prin. F. J. Lowth of Training School
Sends Out Letter to Graduates
Who Are Teaching.

Prin. F. J. Lowth of the teachers' training school is sending out a circular letter to the graduates of the school who are teaching, and in it makes some valuable suggestions in regard to their work which will be read with interest by other district school teachers and all who are concerned with the county schools. Following close upon the report of the board of public affairs at Madison on the rural school, Mr. Lowth's letter is especially timely. It follows:

Dear Friend:
It is the purpose of this letter to offer some suggestions which may prove of practical value in your work as a rural teacher. First, Don't neglect the physical and material basis of your work; keep in good health yourself by obeying the laws of health. Ventilate your school-room often and thoroughly. Bad air is deadly. Do your pupils have all the fresh air and sunlight to which they are entitled?
Don't tolerate bad outbuildings. They are a source of moral contamination.

Second, You are failing in your duty if you do not ask your board for necessary appliances for good work. It may be that you are too conservative or too timid in this matter. Third, Discard worn-out books and get some new ones. A farmer does not use a worn-out reaper.

Fourth, Get acquainted with the people of the district. Be democratic. You take the initiative.

Fifth, Do something this winter to socialize the community. Have a mother's meeting or a program of some sort. Do something.

Sixth, Be thorough in your teaching. Drill to secure skill. This applies in all the school arts. Have much oral reading. Insist on good reading. Do not permit carelessness in written work. Do not require much written work you do not examine carefully and correct.

Seventh, Become thoroughly familiar with your manual. Try out the ideas therein suggested. Do some practical work in civics, hygiene, agriculture, and nature study. Make a start. Do a little. Some teachers don't do much because they are afraid to start things.

Eighth, Make much of oral expression,—of public speaking. Have the little declamations well learned, and recited clearly in good tones. Don't tolerate slovenly speech.

Ninth, Be orderly and systematic. Keep up the loose ends.

Tenth, Prepare carefully for all of your work. This does not mean lack of recreation. But you must know your lessons.

Eleventh, Require obedience. Disobedience is fatal and produces the lawless citizen.

Twelfth, Do not worry. It is a waste of valuable energy. You can not afford to worry.

Thirteenth, Do not put off doing things. "Do it now" is a good motto.

Fourteenth, Show interest and enthusiasm. They are contagious.

Fifteenth, Be fair, frank and firm. A great combination.

Sixteenth, It is a mistake usually to reprove a boy or girl before the school.

Seventeenth, Pupils' plays and games are legitimate and valuable forms of activity. Plan them, and supervise as much as you can.

Eighteenth, Here are some good questions to test yourself:

Am I sufficiently alive? Do I follow the course of study and my program? Am I of any use in the community outside of school? Do I speak too loud or too much? Do I insist on attention? Do I assign lessons judiciously? Am I cheerful and pleasant? Do I give unnecessary directions? Do I threaten, scold, or nag? Is my schoolroom tastefully decorated?

We, the training school instructors, are sending you these suggestions and we hope you will read them several times, and inwardly digest them. We have a just claim upon you this year, and your success is ours. Keep awake to your opportunities and read something new and fresh every day.

We will run the training school on Saturday, Dec. 14 for your especial benefit. We wish to have every one of the fourteen present at a little spread we will have for you. At that time we desire you to organize an Alumni Association, to elect officers, and to consider the matter of presenting a picture, as a class, for each of our recitation rooms, taxing each member from 50c to $1.00. We believe your regard for the school will make this a source of pleasure to you.

Yours sincerely,
F. J. LOWTH, Principal.

TRAINING SCHOOL NOTES.

At the last meeting of Philomathean the following officers for the second quarter were elected:

President—Anna Porton, Clinton.
Vice-Pres.—Flora Robinson, Janesville.

Secretary—Arice Smith, Avon.
Historian—Alice Cullen, Janesville.

Program committee: Ella Jacobson, Elkhorn; Alice Lowery, Janesville; Frances Byrne, Janesville.

Florence Nelson who is teaching north of Janesville spent Thursday afternoon visiting the training school. Miss Nelson is a graduate of the class of 1912 and is managing a good-sized school successfully. She found her visit at the training school pleasant and profitable.

Margaret Mawhinney was out of school Friday afternoon.

Some of the country teachers who have not been connected with the training school may find the circular letter published herewith, of interest to them.

The new desks have been installed and they are found to be much more usable than the old ones.

The geography class are making relief maps of Wisconsin, after spending a week studying the geology of the state.

"Current Events" a weekly school newspaper, will be used for reading matter once a week in the reading class for the next two months.

Florence McKinnon, a graduate of the school, assisted the principal on Saturday in doing typewriting and mimeograph work.

A new map of Wisconsin has been added to our list of appliances.

It is expected that a filing cabinet for school journal and other clippings will be in use in the school before long.

Margaret Vickerman spent Wednesday at her home near Milton Junction.

Katherine Knight after an enforced absence from school for several days, on account of her sister's bad health, is back again in her place.

Florence Lovelace of Albany, visited her sister Marcia Lovelace of the training school, over Saturday and Sunday.

Jennie Haughn, one of the training school graduates, who is teaching near Orfordville, had a basket social recently, and realized over fifteen dollars, nine of which Miss Haughn will spend for pictures for her school.

There are still fundamentals but not everything traditional is fundamental. Education is always an investment and never an expense.

Miss Mildred McCulloch of New Auburn returned home Saturday after spending several months here.

Miss Martha Anelam who teaches at the Six Corners was an over Sunday guest of Miss Hazel Driver.

Misses Laura Boott, Doris McCulloch, Frances Mabson, and Adah Fulton were in Janesville Saturday.

Uncle-Pennywise Says:

Wearing a green coat in the woods ain't no protection. Some hunters don't seem to know that deer don't wear green coats.

H. L. Blomquist, a very well known merchant of Esdaille, Wis., states:—"My wife considers Foley's Honey and Tar Compound the best cough cure on the market. She has used various kinds, but Foley's Honey and Tar Compound gives the best results." Best for children and for grown persons. Contains no opiates. Badger Drug Co.

SIDEWALK SKETCHES.

PINS.

(By Howard L. Rann.)

PINS are a metallic substitute for suspender buttons, hooks and eyes and concealed weapons, and when put to the test never fail to produce the desired effect. They have a sharp, astringent point, which causes a feeling of uneasiness when sat upon unexpectedly. Some men can never sit down upon an upright pin in the cushion of a rocking chair without rising at once and pawing frantically to the rear.

The most useful form of pin is the interlocking safety pin, which will pursue a man from the cradle to the grave. This device has saved the life of many a man whose suspenders parted ten miles from a needle and thread. It is also used with much effect in pinning new babies to their suit of clothes, an inhuman practice which is frowned upon by the best authorities.

Thousands of innocent, sweet-voiced babies are being dosed from Maine to California for some fancied ailment, when the only trouble is too much safety pin.

The hat pin is a murderous weapon which ought to be barred from the males. It is getting so that a vivacious transient in a red vest can hardly step up to a lady on the street and ask to see her home without being filled full of vicious perforations from a hat pin. Most men would rather entertain the contents of a duck gun than be impaled on a bejeweled hat pin in a crowded street car.

The rolling pin is probably responsible for more cases of unprovoked assault and battery than any other implement of warfare. It is a terrible weapon in the hands of a woman who is not afraid of anything in human form. It is especially effective whether thrown from a distance or shaken in the face of a dispirited husband and father.

The hair pin is a domestic article which is used to decorate the feminine head upon retiring. The first sight of a collection of these pins, dotting the head of a loved one and making it look like an asparagus bed, is quite discouraging to men who supposed that hair would stay on the head without clamps, but they soon become reconciled.

Producing Optimism.

A very good remedy for anybody's pessimism is being able to pay his bills.—New York Press.

Little Doubt About It.

Married a month, a young man told the magistrate that his wife had done the following things: Torn up the marriage-certificate, pawned the ring, torn up her wedding-dress, assaulted him. She followed him to court, he added, but he managed to dodge her. The Clerk: "You took her for better or worse, and you seem to have got the worse."

Literature Regarding Southern Winter Resorts received by Gazette Travel Bureau.

The railroads have anticipated the demand for literature regarding the various southern winter resorts at this time of the year, with winter rapidly approaching, and are continually sending this material to the GAZETTE TRAVEL BUREAU.

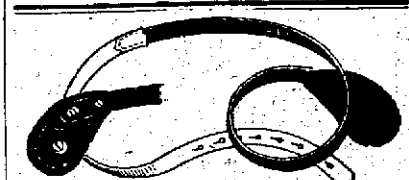

The literature is descriptive of the different cities and towns in Florida, Georgia and other southern states frequented by the winter traveler, giving the desirable features of each together with names of hotels and rates, and other necessary information.

Best Cure for Insomnia.

Deep breathing is one of the best cures for insomnia, as it draws the blood from the brain to the lungs.

Mrs. Fred Laabs, 408 High Forest, Winona, Minn., states:—"My husband had kidney trouble with severe pain across his back and was miserable and tired out. His bladder acted irregularly and there was a brick-dust like sediment. Finally he took Foley Kidney Pills with the result that the pain left him; his bladder acted regularly and he was strong and well again." Badger Drug Co.

WOMAN'S PAGE

CHATS WITH THINKING WOMEN

by Barbara Boyd

Again the Outcry Against Woman's Dress

WHEN other topics of discussion fall and life settles down to a dreary monotony, somebody starts the subject of woman's dress. And immediately the world becomes a battleground, with everybody taking part in the fray.

London has thrown down the gauntlet this time, by its business men taking a stand for greater simplicity and uniformity in the dress of their girl employees.

Dark coats and skirts of serge, or other fine materials, and severe shirtwaists, collars, cuffs and ties are prescribed. No tightness is allowed in the skirts, and the display of neat ankles in shoes with immense buckles or bows is tabooed. Openwork shirtwaists are barred, and dresses must be worn high in the neck. Large picture hats are absolutely forbidden. Hair must not be puffed or worn extravagantly. Earrings are abolished in fact, no jewelry except watches is permitted.

Feminine London, it may be imagined, is seething. But London is not the only place where the war clouds of dress are gathering. The clubwomen of Chicago have collectively put a ban on the tight skirt. They are a little late, it must be admitted, for skirts are widening their borders. But their action will stir up discussion on dress, and this never comes amiss. For we are a long way yet from a solution of the problem.

"The close-fitting skirt and bodice," says a prominent Chicago clubwoman, "should be taken from women by law if necessary. Such clothes are responsible for much of the shocking crime and immorality of the country."

Many ministers and men in public office have joined with the clubwomen, and consequently Chicago is also in a state of ferment that lends zest to life.

And while all this agitation to reform dress is going on in the Old World and the New, comes a lone voice from New England, of one who has reformed dress, and the consequences thereof.

"For the last four years, the question of feminine dress, its absurdity, its discomfort, its disproportionate expense, has been troubling me," says this New England woman, "and as a result I have designed a dress modest and beautiful and devoid of most of those accessories which have been for years the subject of ridicule by the comic press and the greater part of the masculine population. Yet my wearing of it has been little less than a martyrdom, simply because it is radically different from the run of garments worn by women. It is a simple, graceful, one-piece gown that can be made in a few hours. It can be as rich and as beautiful as one wishes according to the material and trimmings selected, but it requires no fitting or tiresome cutting, is without buttons, hooks and eyes and irrelevant ornament. I am covered from head to foot without the use of ten to twenty hideous, uncomfortable and unnecessary garments, and sans the vulgar shapes of modern fashions. My hips and my bust are not accentuated as though I were a prize animal on exhibition, nor are any of my movements or natural functions hindered."

"Yet what is the consequence of my honest experiment? I am told that wearing it is an affliction. I am stared at and jeered, if I appear upon the streets. And even at the opera, where I am assuredly one of the most fully covered females present, the air is full of hostile criticisms. My house itself is stared at as though a savage lived there. Several dear, prim, old country ladies have even cut my acquaintance because they find my clothes 'indecent.' One gentleman informed me it was not respectable to be so individual; and another has been in a terribly upset condition about what he calls my 'eccentricity,' even though he knows my health has been vastly improved by my new costume."

So after all, we are inconsistent, aren't we?

We howl and clamor for dress reform, and hold meetings, and pass regulations, and then we go and wear the very things we condemn, because everybody else is wearing them. And the one who has the strength of mind and courage of her convictions to work out and wear a beautiful, yet sensible, costume, we look at askance because it is "different."

When, I wonder, will a Madame Moses arise to lead us into the promised land of serviceable, comfortable and beautiful dress?

Barbara Boyd.

he replied, "Yes, I would; Uncle George does."

Cool, never iced, water is his beverage. Cocoa is a food, not a beverage. Milk is also a food and should be sipped by both young and old or indigestion or bilious attacks will surely follow.

There is a happy medium and balance in food and right living, and when once established, we are surprised to find it all so simple and easy. Avoid pies, rich cakes, preserves, pickles and much candy.

Substitute fruits, bread and butter, fruit and nut crackers, chopped dates and figs as a sweet, and these make a nice sweet sandwich. Any and all fresh vegetables well cooked and simply seasoned. Green vegetables for salad, but not mayonnaise dressing, oil and lemon juice are much better.

A dish of well-cooked prunes—never add sugar—sereal and cream, whole wheat bread and butter and a glass of milk, sip slowly, will certainly give a child a sustaining power, not equaled by meat.

Ripe bananas are wholesome food for children. If meats are used—and they are not necessary to build the body—a child should not have them more than three or four times a week. Never pork or rich fowls, such as geese or ducks. Substitutes for meat: eggs, milk, nuts and beans. Most children like nuts. If they are mixed and ground fine with twice the quantity of rice, hominy-grits or mashed potatoes, they will receive a perfect meat value, and far better for their growing and developing bodies.

Desserts? Yes, if they are simple and dairy ones. A cup custard or rice pudding with dates, figs or raisins after a no-meat dinner. A baked apple, tapioca pudding with fruits, apples, pineapple, etc., with a nut or bean dinner. Gelatine desserts with fruit are good and desirable.

Now, if we have made ourselves clear as to why children should have the right food, and what, in our best judgment and experience, these right foods are, it will be an easy matter to plan good, likable and attractive meals for the children's table.

Two Suggestive Lunches or Suppers for Mothers and Children.

Cream or Onion or Celery Soup.
Croustons.
Shredded Lamb or Mutton with Boiled Rice.
French Dressing.
Lettuce.
Waters.

Cream of Brown Potato Soup.
Boiled Macaroni with Tomatoes.
Spinach.
Whole Wheat Bread and Butter.
Stewed Figs and Cream.

Each dish in the above menu has a decided food value. Cream soups are most excellent for luncheons or suppers, but they should be eaten slowly. The macaroni and milk take the place of meat. Figs stewed and served without sugar have a high food value. They could be used and butter with whole wheat bread and butter; finely chopped nuts are a healthy sweet for school lunches or when children have a desire for sweets.

The Evening Chit-Chat

BY RUTH CAMERON

NOTES AND BEAMS.

A FRIEND of mine had just been reading one of my little talks in regard to the domineering person who antagonizes people while she is trying to help them, and she came to me with the paper in her hand, her face beaming with triumph. "Well," she said, "that is an exact picture of my sister. Were you thinking of her when you wrote it?" "Why no," I answered most truthfully, "does it describe her?" "To a T," said the woman, "I do hope she'll see it. I think I'll leave the paper open somewhere where she cannot miss it."

Whisper now, while I tell you a secret! The person whom I had most in mind when I was trying to describe this type was this woman herself.

Isn't it queer how easy it is for us to see the mote in our brother's eye, despite the huge beam that clogs our own?

Often when I write about faults it is my own that I am criticizing and I know it. But other times I think I am writing about faults that I do not happen to possess. And then, even while I write, I pause and wonder, "After all am I, myself, one of these people I am scoring?"

And quite often I find that I am.

The lady-who-always-knows-somewhat did me the compliment one day of assuring me that she should think my little scribbles would do a great deal of good, because when people read about their faults they could not help recognizing them and trying to do better.

"Don't you believe it, Ruth," said the wants-to-be-cynic promptly. "None of the people will ever think the coat fits them. They'll just find someone else they know it will fit."

Which cynical view, as the little incident of the two sisters proves, is certainly more or less true.

The newspapers and magazines of the present day are full of philosophical and moral writings, pointing out our faults and suggesting ways to overcome them. It ought to do us a lot of good if only we would take the dose instead of passing it on to our neighbor.

But the doses these ethical doctors attempt to give us often go quite as far astray as the castor oil which the obliging drug clerk put into the soda water. A young woman had asked him for some castor oil put up in some way so that it wouldn't taste bad. While she was waiting, she ordered a glass of soda water and drank it. After a few minutes she asked the drug clerk where the castor oil was. "I put it in the soda," he said, "you couldn't taste it, could you?" "Oh," said the young lady, horrified, "it was for my sister I wanted it!"

Seriously, are you and I receiving all the help we might from these articles?

Now, let's not try to put that coat also on our neighbor.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

The Housewife.

Dustless Dustcloth—Equal parts kerosene, turpentine and painter's oil. Put all in bottle, shake well. Cut open old stockings down the seam, lay as many as you wish, one on top of the other, sew through center crosswise to keep them together. Now pour mixture on until you think cloth is damp enough, and it is ready for use. I find this as good as can be bought, to be used on floors. First brush off dust with whiskbroom.

Save All Old Window Shades—If you have a floor you would like to paint, but it is rough, clean well, then make paste of flour same as for wall paper. Melt 5 cents' worth of powdered glue, stir in paste, then paste on floor. Let dry 24 hours, then paint as color wanted. No one will ever know, as shades will sink into the cracks and show each board and be smooth. I had a room treated this way two years ago and does not show wear.

Pear Butter.

If you want something fine, try this: One peck pears, two pounds raisins, three oranges, one pound English walnuts, three cups sugar. Cook pears till very soft and put through colander. Put raisins and oranges (with the peel on) through food chopper. Chop nuts, but not very fine; add these to strained pears with the sugar and cook 20 minutes. Seal.

The late pears do very nicely and are much cheaper.

Peaches or plums may be substituted. All of them are exceptionally good.

Carrot Marmalade.
One dozen raw grated carrots; one cup sugar to each cup of carrots; strained juice of three lemons, one in rags? (3)—What would be suitable to serve, not too expensive? (4)—How can a good Axminster rug be cleaned?

JOY.
(1)—If you mean what is called a "hard times" party, I should think it would be fun. The guests dress in any old thing. (2)—You might decorate the place to look like an old clothes shop. Have plenty of flowers and bright colors to make it cheerful.

(3)—Serve ordinary refreshments—sandwiches, cake, pickles, coffee, etc. in old cracked dishes, wooden plates, old bent knives, forks and spoons. An old table cloth or sheet full of holes can be used as a tablecloth. Use any old piece of cloth for napkins.

(4)—Get the dust out of the rug first with a good beating, then lay on the floor and scrub with warm water and laundry soap with a little gasoline or turpentine added to the water. Wipe up all soap suds with a clean cloth and clear water.

Dear Mrs. Thompson—About six months ago I got acquainted with a young man three years my senior, without an introduction and through a small flirtation. He asked to call on me, and I gave him permission. He called twice and then mother wrote him requesting him not to call again, as it was causing trouble between us and a boy friend whom I had known before I met this last one.

(1)—About three weeks later, this last boy left the city and has sent me several cards and letters from which I can tell he is a perfect gentleman in every way. Should I answer them which would be against my mother's will? She thinks I should drop him because we got acquainted by flirting. Please advise me. I like him very much and would like to keep his friendship.

(2)—Are my writing and spelling very bad? I am just eighteen?

ROSEBUD.
(1)—If the boy respected you he would manage to find some responsible person to introduce him to you. Better follow mother's advice, dear girl. And don't make a true and tried old friend unhappy by a new fancy which will wear off in less time than you think.

(2) Your spelling is all right. Your writing is a little careless.

Bake the Fruit Cakes Now

As fruit cake improves with age, it is a good plan to bake several loaves at once—enough to last through the Holiday Season. Wrap the loaves in oiled paper, put them in a cool place, and they will keep all winter.

This recipe is an exceptionally good one, and if followed carefully, you will have cake that you will be proud to serve on any occasion that may arise during the winter.

K C Dark Fruit Cake

By Mrs. Janet McKenzie Hill, Editor of the Boston Cooking School Magazine.
4 cups flour; 4 teaspoonful salt; 1 teaspoonful K C Baking Powder; 2 teaspoonfuls cinnamon; 4 teaspoonfuls allspice and nutmeg; 4 teaspoonfuls each, cloves and mace; 3 lbs seeded raisins; 1 lb. currants; 1 lb. chopped figs; 1 lb. sliced citron; grated rind of 1 lemon; 2 cups sugar; 12 eggs, (whites and yolks beaten separately); 1 cup wine or coffee.

Sift together flour, salt, baking powder and spices. Dredge fruit with flour thoroughly. Cream butter and sugar; add beaten yolks; add alternately fruit mixture and liquid; add whipped whites, beat for ten minutes. Stir in prepared fruit. Line loaf-pans with four thicknesses of paper; pour in batter. Bake in slow oven from three to five hours, covering pans with paper until two-thirds baked.

THE HOT WATER DRINK.

Hot water is beneficial as a morning drink when the tongue is found to be coated, with a bad taste in the mouth on arising. If it is unpalatable, a little salt or lemon juice may be added. When supper is eaten late, and the digestion is weak, the emptying of the stomach is slow, and it is often beneficial to cleanse it in this way. Many also find it difficult to take enough water unless hot water is used, especially in cold weather.

The Best Cough Syrup is Easily Made at Home

Costs Little and Acts Quickly. Money Refunded If It Fails.

This recipe makes a pint of cough syrup, and this recipe, at $2.00 a container, with ordinary cough remedies. It stops obstinate coughs—even whooping cough—in a hurry, and is splendid for sore lungs, asthma, croup, hoarseness and other throat troubles.

Mix one pint of granulated sugar with 1/2 pint of warm water, and stir for 2 minutes. Put 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex (fifty cents' worth) in a pint bottle, and add the Sugar Syrup. Take a teaspoonful every one, two or three hours. Tastes good.

This takes right hold of a cough and gives almost instant relief. It stimulates the appetite, and is slightly laxative—both excellent features.

Pinex, as perhaps you know, is the most valuable concentrated compound of Norway white pine extract, rich in guaiacol and the other natural healing pine elements.

No other preparation will do the work of Pinex in this respect, although strained honey can be used instead of the sugar syrup, if desired.

Thousands of housewives in the United States and Canada now use this Pinex and Sugar Syrup recipe. This plan has often been initiated, but the old successful formula has never been equalled. Its low cost and quick results have made it immensely popular.

A guaranty of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this recipe. Your druggist has Pinex, or will get it for you, and send to The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

Domestic Science DEPARTMENT

CONDUCTED BY Mrs. Alice Gitchell Kirk

Children pass through certain stages and require certain kinds and quantities of foods for building purposes. So we will consider regular "table" children, from the ages of five or seven to twelve years.

The easiest way, at the time a child asks for any and all kinds of food, is to give it to him. It saves discussion, tears and time, and everyone is apparently happy. But there comes a day of reckoning. Overfed and underfed children are pitiable objects, as they are usually nervous, irritable and restless. Stomach aches for the want of food, or too much, or wrong combinations.

It is impossible to plan the food for children unless the mother or one in charge has true and correct standards of what constitutes perfect health. If we are living up to this idea of right living ourselves, the way is easy for the children. For the mother says:

"There are my children, all different natures and types, but all must build flesh, bone, blood, hair, nails, teeth and skin." Cereals contain the necessary elements for the bone. Butter, cream and olive oil, good fats, heat and energy producers. Not in fried foods, but butter on bread, cream and cereal—no sugar—and oil on dairy green vegetables; potatoes, rice, hominy and white breads are common starchy foods, and their great food value for the child depends upon the methods of cooking. For instance, a baked or carefully boiled potato has food value, and are worse than useless when fried. There is no starchy vegetable so clean in the system and so easily digested as rice, when cooked in plenty of rapidly-boiling water and simply served as a vegetable. The same is true of macaroni. Whole wheat bread contains more mineral water than white bread, and is better for child building.

Avoid sweets and give the children fruits and salads. Boys and girls are proud of fine, strong bodies. Teach them that it is through good foods, plenty of water, fresh air and exercise that they will develop their bodies and grow strong men and women. When they have once learned the pleasures of health and how uncomfortable it is to be sick, they will be ready to give up unhealthy foods.

I must confess to being horrified when I see children given tea and coffee. I speak of this because it is so very common, and this largely through seeing older members of the family using it so freely. It reminds me of a little four-year-old boy in kindergarten who had a tooth-pick in his mouth, pulling away, playing smoking. I said to him: "Karl, you wouldn't smoke, would you?" Quickly continues the use of chocolate for cooking purposes. Next time try Van Houten's cocoa.

HEART and HOME PROBLEMS

By MRS. ELIZABETH THOMPSON

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I have grown to like you very much, and will you please help me if you can? (1)—I am a girl of 14 attending high school. I have taken music lessons half my life and am fairly well advanced. I wish to become popular as a pianist in public. Where and how can I begin, even if for very small wages?

(2)—Would you advise me to become a pianist in a 5-cent theatre to get a start?

(3)—Can you give me a remedy to darken gray hairs (not for myself)? AMBITIOUS READER.

Thank you, my dear. (1)—Unless you are very proficient and talented you are not ready to play in public very much. You might get a chance to play for dancing parties and entertainments where music is needed; or as an accompanist for singers. It might bring you a little pin money.

(2)—I cannot advise you to do this if it keeps you away from home late at night. It isn't good for girls of your age to miss the sleep they need. Some older and trustworthy person ought to accompany you and stay with you if you should go. (3)—Strong black tea, or cage tea will darken a little, and both are good for the hair. Rub a little vaseline into the roots of the hair.

Dear Mrs. Thompson:—(1)—Would it be proper to have a ragtime musicade party in our house? (2)—How should the house be decorated;

The Best Treatment for Itching Scalps, Dandruff and Falling Hair

To allay itching and irritation of the scalp, prevent dandruff, and promote the growth and beauty of the hair, the following special treatment is most effective, agreeable and economical. On retiring, comb the hair out straight and around the head at the side, and make a parting, gently rubbing Cuticura ointment into the parting with a bit of soft flannel held over the end of the finger. Anoint additional partings about half an inch apart until the whole scalp has been treated. The purpose being to get the Cuticura ointment into the scalp skin rather than on the hair. The next morning, shampoo with Cuticura soap and hot water. Shampoos alone may be used as often as desirable, but once or twice a month is generally sufficient for this special treatment for women's hair. Cuticura soap and ointment, sold everywhere. Sample of each mailed free, with 32-p. Skin Book, address "Cuticura," Dept. 3, Boston.

For tender, shaved men shave in comfort with Cuticura Soap Shaving Stick, 25c. Sample free.

Misses Martha and Mary Klingbeil spent Sunday at the parental home. George Knipschield and family spent Sunday at M. J. Winch's. Mrs. Jennie Lawler and daughter of Trinidad, left Tuesday for their home. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Case have been spending a week at Janesville. There will be a Sunday school social at the Congregational church Friday evening, Nov. 23. For the Sunday school and all interested. A picnic supper will be served at six o'clock.

THROBBING HEADACHE? IT'S YOUR LIVER, YOU'RE BILIOUS! YOU NEED "CASCARETS"

Sick headaches! Always trace them to lazy liver delayed, fermenting food in the bowels or a sick stomach. Poisonous, constipated matter, gasses and bile generated in the bowels, instead of being carried out of the system, is reabsorbed into the blood. When this poison reaches the delicate brain tissue it causes congestion and that brain sickening headache. Cascarets remove the cause by stimulating the liver, making the bile and constipation poison move on, and out of the bowels. The effect is almost instantaneous. Ladies whose sensitive organisms are especially prone to sick headaches, need not suffer, for they can be quickly cured by Cascarets. One taken tonight will straighten you out by morning—a 10-cent box will keep your head clear, stomach sweet, liver and bowels regular and make you feel bright and cheerful for months. Children need Cascarets, too—they love them because they taste good and never gripe or sicken.

"FRECKLES" A MOST PLEASING OFFERING

Dramatization of Gene Stratton Porter's Novel Delights Large Audience at Myers Theatre.

A clean, refreshing story, replete with wholesome sentiment and touched with just the right amounts of pathos and humor, describes the able presentation of "Freckles," the dramatization of Gene Stratton Porter's novel of the same name, as given at the Myers theatre last evening. "Freckles" as a play loses nothing of its pristine charm and vigor as imparted by Miss Porter in the original book form, and with the strong cast that appeared last evening with John Roberts in the title role, the production was surely a delight. The house was well filled and every person there, it is safe to say, was swayed by the intense feeling of the piece which is so humanly appealing. There are few who do not know the story of the young Irish lad, escaped from an orphanage, handicapped by the loss of his right hand and infinitely more by the fact that he had no name, uneducated and homely, but endowed with a deep sense of honor and loyalty; he found kind friends, for whom his heart had longed, in the Limerick where he served the rich lumberman McLean with devotion and ability. His love for the "Swamp Angel" and his thought that he was unworthy of her on account of his condition, his risk for her by which he narrowly escaped death, his recovery and the discovery that he was the son of an Irish Lord are incidents which contribute to the movement of the piece. Mr. Roberts as "Freckles" showed a keen realization of his part and gave the audience some fine emotional acting, at all times subdued and controlled. Possessed with a fine clear voice his solo selections, one in each of the three acts, brought forth appreciative applause. Edith Mendoza as "Angel," was charming, thoughtful, impulsive, as the part demanded. Carl Bates as McLean, the lumberman was a very pleasing character. Frank Battin and Sara DeGroz as Mr. and Mrs. Duncan the old Scotch couple were delightful and their quaint humor always in evidence never failed to cause a ripple of laughing appreciation. Other characters were Alpheus Lincoln as Black Jack the timber thief, a part well taken, and George Mortimore as Wesnes, the camp cook.

TWELVE YEAR OLD BOY IN EXCITING RUNAWAY

Ralph Larrabee Thrown from Carriage but Was Uninjured—Horse Jumps Two Fences.

Town Line, Nov. 18.—Ralph Larrabee, the twelve-year-old son of Ira Larrabee, residing in the town of Rock, two and one-half miles from the Town Line bridge, had rather an exciting experience Monday morning while returning from taking his father to the 6:10 Interurban car. The thills came loose frightening the horse and it immediately started to run. The boy was before reaching the bridge when the horse crossed the bridge and jumped two fences and just missed striking Henry Bartling, Jr. The horse was caught at this place and tied in the barn until it was called for. No damage was done except to the thills. The horse is one lately purchased by Mr. Larrabee and is a rather nervous animal. Mrs. William Stanley of Beloit, spent a couple of days the last of the week with her sister, Miss Minnie Bartling.

Alfred A. Erickson of Chicago, returned to his home the first of the week after a short visit at the home of Mrs. C. J. Lunn. Mr. Erickson was an intimate friend of the late Dr. Martin Lunn. Mrs. Edward James returned home Tuesday after a few days' visit with relatives at Annapolis, Md. Mr. and Mrs. George Jones have been spending a week with their son, Roy G. Jones and other relatives, returned to their home at Libertyville, Ill. Monday. Mr. and Mrs. Roy Jones entertained Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Gower and family Sunday. Fred Elfenblad has been in attendance at the county board meetings at Janesville. The chairman, Bert Moser, being absent from the county at this time, is unable to attend the board meeting. Mrs. A. J. Lunn and son Benjamin, spent Sunday at the home of A. Krutson near Oxfordville. Stuart Threne was the guest of Merwyn Martin of Beloit from Friday until Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Walters entertained the Rev. R. W. Bosworth at dinner Sunday.

PORTER

Porter, Nov. 18.—Miss Mayme Kealy is spending a few days at the home of Miss Nell McCarthy. Mrs. R. L. Earle visited at the home of her sister, Mrs. Schoede of Janesville, during the latter part of the week. Messrs. Dan, Dinnie McCarthy and John Downey were Madison visitors on Sunday. Mrs. Mary McCarthy and Mrs. J. Robertson spent Tuesday with the latter's mother, Mrs. Earle, who is visiting at the home of Mrs. A. Christian. Mr. Brown of Edgerton was buying stock in the city on Thursday. Mr. Joe Harbington was an Edgerton shopper on Saturday. Mrs. Tom Stearns spent Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Mary McCarthy. A large number of our residents are to attend the Cosmoconvia at Evansville, which is to be held at the city hall, Nov. 22 and 23. The dance at Edgerton, Ford was postponed on account of the death of Mrs. Hain, who girlhood days were spent there. James McCarthy is busy shredding at the home of Mr. R. L. Earle. C. W. McCarthy spent Sunday with relatives at Edgerton.

CAINVILLE CENTER

Cainville Center, Nov. 18.—The friends of Bayard Andrew of this place are sorry to hear that his condition does not improve. W. B. Andrew came from Dayton the last of the week and reports Mr. Andrew gradually failing. Mr. Frank Green recently lost a valuable horse. The animal's death was due to fighting with a strange horse that was in the next stall. Mrs. G. L. Howard is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Dougherty in Milwaukee. Leslie Townsend had new chimneys built on his house Saturday. Mr. Chapman of Footville did the work. The young people of the neighborhood enjoyed a social evening at the hall Saturday night. Miss Samie Darringer went to Edgerton Friday to attend the funeral of Mrs. Harry Eaton which was held at ten o'clock Saturday. Will Letts and William Levzow have milk routes hauling to the condenser at Footville. Mr. Brigham is taking stock to the station today.

WEST MAGNOLIA

West Magnolia, Nov. 18.—Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Wells have rented the George Brigham farm for the coming year. Mrs. Lottie Edwards had a hardwood floor put in her kitchen last week. George Brigham was in this vicinity buying stock Thursday. Mrs. Tom Meely and children entertained relatives Sunday. Ed Davis expects to shred in this locality the latter part of the week. Drew Skredded at Gary's and Needham's the latter part of last week. Obituary. Amelia Jane Clark was born in the town of Porter, Rock county, on the Evansville and Janesville road, August 10, 1853. At the age of four years, she, with her parents moved to the village of Attica, which place was her home until she was united in marriage to George Whipple, May 4, 1876. They lived one and one-half miles east of Attica for twenty-three years, then moved to the town of Magnolia which place was her home until death came Nov. 10, 1912, at the age of fifty-nine years and three months. Seven children were born to this union, two boys, Elder A. and Claude W. and five daughters, Laura, wife of Frank Bardeen of Beloit, Wis.; Sylvia L. wife of Bert Edwards of Exeter, Oregon; Cora and Ellie, who died in infancy; and Orpha, who is still at home. Two sisters, Mrs. Charles Ross of Evansville and Mrs. Emmett Scott of Belleville, her husband, seven grandchildren, together with her many friends of this place and her former home are left to mourn the loss of a loving, faithful wife, a kind, indulgent mother and a dear friend. She was interred in the Attica cemetery where her father, mother and other relatives are buried.

EAST CENTER

East Center, Nov. 18.—Miss Irene Sands spent the week-end at her home in Madison. Eli Crall attended the meeting of the county board, in Janesville, last week. Mr. and Mrs. William Fenrick entertained relatives Sunday. Mrs. Will Dixon spent a few days last week with her mother in Janesville. Corn-shredding is the order of the day. Miss Nell Roberty of Hanover spent Saturday and Sunday at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Roberty. Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Crall and S. L. Crall and family visited with Mrs. Sina Schroeder, Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Schroeder, who has been very ill, is slowly improving. Mrs. Edeline Davis of Footville is visiting at the home of her son, E. L. Davis.

LA PRAIRIE

La Prairie, Nov. 18.—Mrs. Pearl Chesemore entertained the members of the Larkin club at a one o'clock dinner on Thursday. The J. B. M. A. club met with Mrs. Will Gleason, Friday afternoon. Mrs. Horton and daughter, Hazel, of Shopiere, spent Thursday with Mrs. Norman Howard. Mrs. Wesley Bradford and children are visiting relatives in Janesville. Miss Clara McWilliams spent Saturday and Sunday at her home in Milton. Miss Alice Smith of Beloit was home for over Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Carl Meier are visiting in their daughter's Magnolia. Miss Cecil Bradford is entertaining company from Whitewater. Plan to attend the chicken-pie supper and apron sale at the M. E. church in Shopiere, Wednesday evening, Nov. 20. Ralph Howard has returned home from a trip to St. Paul, Minn., and Omaha, Neb.

MAGNOLIA CENTER

Magnolia Center, Nov. 18.—Rev. Watson will hold revival meetings at the M. E. church, beginning Sunday evening, Nov. 24, and lasting until the following Sunday. Everyone is invited to attend. Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Green and family took dinner at the home of the former's mother at Evansville, Sunday. George Brigham of Evansville was in town Tuesday. Townsend was a caller in West Magnolia, Thursday. Wallace Andrew was called to Dayton, Thursday, by the illness of his brother, Bayard, who resides at that place. The young people gave a party at the hall Friday evening. Those present reported a very enjoyable evening.

NEWVILLE

Newville, Nov. 18.—Mr. and Mrs. Fred Richardson and Mr. and Mrs. Goldthorpe went by auto to Johnston on Sunday. While there they visited Mrs. Mawhinney who formerly taught here. Mr. Pierce and the Rev. Freymeyer were guests at William Park's on Sunday. Mrs. Charles Teubert of Edgerton, is spending a few days in Newville. Miss Mabel Bond, who is visiting at Frank Sherman's, went to Janesville for the day Monday. Special meetings are being held at the hall this week. Presiding Elder Taylor will arrive Wednesday to assist the pastor in the meetings. Everyone welcome. Mr. Peck had an accident the past week, hurting one foot quite badly.

SHOPIERE

Shopiere, Nov. 18.—Robert Dole has purchased a new auto. W. W. Swingle is under the doctor's care. A Thanksgiving sermon will be given at the Congregational church next Sunday. The Sunday school of the Congregational church will hold a social at the church parlors next Friday at six o'clock for members only. The M. E. church will hold a supper Wednesday, Nov. 20. A play, "At the Village Postoffice," will be given by the Young People's society of the Congregational church, Tuesday, Nov. 26. The Weekly Cottage meeting will be held at Dr. Eaton's next Thursday evening. Fred Rice is on the gain. Miss Ida Sweet is improving.

MILTON

Milton, Nov. 18.—N. O. Moore of Riverside, California, who recently returned from the west coast of Africa, where he went last spring in the interest of the Seventh-day Baptists to investigate their missionary interests, spent Saturday and Sunday here and gave a resume of his trip at that church Saturday morning. His sister, Miss Julia Moore, of Chicago, accompanied him here. R. B. Thomas has returned from Red Lake, Minn., where he has been for some time looking after his land interests. E. F. Davis, Jr., of Chicago, is visiting his parents. Milton postoffice will be closed on Thanksgiving day from 10:00 a. m. to 5:00 p. m. No service on that day by rural carriers. J. C. Williams has returned from Glidden. He shot a deer during his visit there. Mr. and Mrs. S. N. Lowther are visiting Madison relatives. Dr. A. L. Burdick and wife and Mrs. Jno. Cunningham of Janesville spent Saturday with Milton friends. Dr. G. W. Post, Sr., and Miss Jessie visited Milton relatives Saturday. Harry L. Rood and bride have gone to Daytona, Fla.

FOOTVILLE

Mrs. Orin Day was called to Elkhorn the middle of last week by the serious illness of her uncle. William Kennedy was in Janesville on Friday. The out-of-town relatives and friends who were here to attend the funeral of the late John Canary, have all returned to their homes except Miss Nellie Canary who is working in Baraboo. She will remain at home until after Thanksgiving. Miss Wanda Evans of Monroe is here visiting old friends. It is hoped that some fire protection will be secured for our village before some serious fire takes place. The first number of the lecture course will be given in Masonic hall, November 21st, by the Lyric Glee club. Plan to be there. The Misses Anna Mae Fox and Nora Torphy were Janesville callers Friday afternoon. Ernie Silverthorn spent last week at the home of his parents. Miss Lizzie Rowland has gone to work as demonstrator for the Arbuckle Coffee company. Mrs. Hiram Pelton of Milwaukee spent last week with her friend, Mrs. Frank Wells. Clarence Owen spent last week at the home of his father. The dance last Thursday night was not very largely attended. The Ladies Aid will meet Thursday afternoon with Mrs. John Honeysett. W. H. Cory and wife leave Tuesday for Florida where they will spend the winter. Miss Crystal Snyder went to Milwaukee Friday evening and returned today. Ray Lentz Sundayed at home. Mrs. Arthur Cain and Mrs. F. J. Trevorrow were Janesville shoppers Saturday. Mrs. Mary Wells celebrated her seventy-ninth birthday Sunday at the home of her son, Frank. The following ladies were present: Mrs. Watkins Davis, Mrs. Rote, and Mrs. Elizabeth Honeysett.

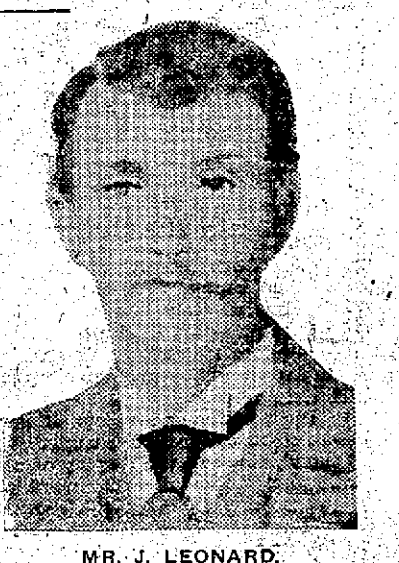

ROCK PRAIRIE

Rock Prairie, Nov. 18.—Dr. Laughlin of Janesville occupied the pulpit at the U. P. church last Sunday. Rev. L. C. Randolph of Milton will preach next Sunday at 11:30 o'clock, with Sabbath school at 10:30. James Palmer of Janesville was a week end visitor on the Prairie. Mr. and Mrs. Bert Austin welcomed a little baby daughter last Wednesday. Mrs. Peck of Milton is visiting friends here. There will be a concert at the U. P. church on Friday evening, November 29, given by the Wolcott-Vorleed Concert company. It is the second number of the lecture course. James Menzies has returned from a visit in Chicago. Miss Helen J. Barlass spent Sunday at her home. She was accompanied by her friend, Miss Anna Dean. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Parr are the proud parents of a little baby boy. Rev. James E. Springer of Pennsylvania has declined the call extended to him by the Rock Prairie congregation.

Eats Freely But Has No Dyspepsia

Takes a Mild Laxative With Good Pepsin and Insures His Comfort and Pleasure.

MR. J. LEONARD.

Fortunate is the man who can eat "anything" without suffering the tortures of dyspepsia, but as few are so fortunate care should be taken in the matter of diet. Eating slowly, masticating the food thoroughly and taking a short walk after the heavy meal of the day will do much towards assisting digestion. Any grown-up person ought to know the peculiar foods that do not agree, and these should be avoided. When these common sense aids fail, the next thing to do is to take a mild digestive tonic with laxative properties, and there is none better than Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It contains the greatest of all aids to digestion, good pepsin. It has other ingredients that act mildly on the bowels, and combined it forms a combination for the relief of dyspepsia or indigestion that is unsurpassed. Its action is to long and strengthen the stomach and bowel muscles so that they can again do their work naturally without outside aid, and when that happy moment comes all medicine can be dispensed with. It is the best remedy obtainable for any disorder of the stomach, liver, bowels, for dyspepsia, constipation, biliousness, headaches, drowsiness after eating, gas on the stomach, etc. Thousands of users will testify to this, among them Mr. J. Leonard, Route 5, Bangor, Mich., and Mr. J. Parfitt, 338 La-May Ave., Detroit, Mich. Syrup Pepsin is sure in its results, and a vast improvement over chewing or swallowing tablets and mints, or taking cathartics, salts, etc., all of which are harsh and nauseous and at best do but temporary good. You can obtain Syrup Pepsin at any drug store for fifty cents or one dollar a bottle. If no member of your family has ever used Syrup Pepsin and you would like to make a personal trial of it, before buying it in the regular way of a druggist, send your address a postal will do—Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 413 Washington St., Monticello, Ill., and a free sample bottle will be mailed you. Results are always guaranteed or money will be refunded.

At The Theatre

"A MODERN EVE." Heralded as the greatest musical success of the decade, and boasting of the most prosperous summer witnessed in Chicago in years, "A Modern Eve" announced as the attraction at Myers Theater Wednesday evening, November 27, promises to be an event of more than usual interest to the music lovers. Chicagoans have been revelling in its swinging music all summer, and is still loath to permit the Berlin operetta to depart to other triumphs. "A Modern Eve" was first staged at the Neus Theatre, Berlin, two years ago, and is still running there. Its success was immediate and emphatic, and it speedily became the talk of Berlin. Mort H. Singer, who was visiting the German capital last fall, was delighted with the offering, and was greatly impressed with the experiment on the part of Mr. Coburn who believes that there are many outside the schools and clubs to whom such concessions are usually given, who are fond of the classics, and who would attend in larger numbers of the prices were not prohibitive. The prices for this performance have therefore been set from 25 cents to $1.00. This should assure a large audience.

"THE LITTLEST REBEL." Mr. Marshall Farnum in "The Littlest Rebel" will be presented under the direction of A. H. Woods, at the Myers Theater Wednesday, November 20. This play, which was written by Edward Peple is a Civil War drama handed in a happy, ever-pleasant manner, with no effort to treat of rights and wrongs of the great popularity of the music in the various Berlin cafes. Assuring himself of the libretto's adaptability for the American stage, he secured exclusive rights to it on this side of the Atlantic. Victor Hollander, who wrote most of the music score, is ranked as the best composer of light music in Germany, and his collaborator, Jean Gilbert, a younger man, is distinguished as the author of "The Polish Wedding," which ran for two years in Berlin. Among the songs his now heard are the alluring "Good-bye Everybody," "You're Such a Lonesome Moon," "Rita, My Margarita," "Every Day is Christmas When You're Married," "Won't You Smile," "Excuse Me!" "Certainly," "Hello, Sweetheart!" and "Is the Girl You Married Still the Girl You Love?"

Scene in Act I, "A Modern Eve," Myers Theatre, Wednesday, Nov. 27.

"COBURN PLAYERS." An announcement which will no doubt interest local players is that of the appearance of The Coburn Players in Shakespeare's "Othello" at the Myers Theater on November 30, for one performance.

Their records for highly artistic classic performances, both at the leading theaters throughout the country and their open air tours at the colleges and universities assures continued success for this, their ninth season.

The management of the company has kept up the high standard of this attraction by bringing scenery, costumes, furniture, armour and properties historically correct and of great beauty.

It is especially interesting to note that the Coburn Players will make concessions in price to the general public, instead of merely to a select few as is the usual custom with Shakespearean companies. This is an struggle, but a play whose only mission is to provide a background for a pretty story filled with human touch and strains of gentleness that warms the heart. The play is a true reflection of the distress, the dangers and the sufferings that beset the Southern Cause towards the end of the struggle between the North and South, and a vivid picture of the days when more than ever before did patriotism and bravery animate the conflicting forces. A family of three, father, mother and their little daughter, Virgie, concern the story upon which "The Littlest Rebel" is built. The father is a devout follower of the Southern cause, is an army scout and a zealous worker in that hotbed of Richmond towards the close of the civil struggle. Often does the scout return to his home, which, however, is finally burned by Union soldiers. The mother dies and the little girl is left alone in a rough cabin by the mountain side to exist as best she can on berries and acorn bread except for such times when her father can seek her out, disregarding the dangers that surround him when through the Southern lines he steals to bring his little child nourishing food. It is on one of these visits that the scout is pursued by a detail of Union soldiers, and on their approach to the cabin he warns his little girl to tell them that he has gone.

"TESS OF THE STORM COUNTRY." "Tess of the Storm Country" which comes to the Myers Theater on Thursday, November 28, Thanksgiving day, matinee and evening is a big story, it has all the charm and force of atmosphere created by a select company of premier exponents. The theme of the play is mighty, its action is swiftly rushing, its stirring incidents closely crowded with dramatic situations intricate in its bewilderingly beautiful stage settings, its characterizations masterly—it is more than an interesting fascinating romance, it is a play with a purpose, and that purpose is made plain without any undue deliberation, and is decisive in its developments, and is in a word, the best play yet produced by Jones and Crane that rising young firm of theatrical producers of Chicago.

"THE THEODORE THOMAS ORCHESTRA"

The Theodore Thomas Orchestra which plays at Myers Theatre, Nov. 25, was organized by Theodore Thomas in 1864, when it began a series of Symphony Concerts in Irving Hall, New York City. The tours of the Orchestra began five years later, and so great had become the fame of the organization in these early days of Orchestral Music in America that people traveled hundreds of miles to attend these concerts. The orchestra continued in this work at varying periods, and with varying success, but so indomitable was the courage of its distinguished leader in his belief in the future of music in America that he reversed served but as a spur to renewed and greater efforts.

In 1891 the Orchestra was brought to Chicago by a number of public spirited Chicagoans (who banded themselves together as the Orchestral Association) and under the name of the Chicago Orchestra, a name which was adopted at the suggestion of Mr. Thomas, the founder of the organization. Concerts have been given weekly in that city during the musical season for the past twenty years, the season now consisting of twenty-eight weeks, fifty-six concerts, and from eight to twelve weeks annually are devoted to spreading the cause of good music through concerts and festival tours. In 1902 a public subscription was started for the collection of funds with which to erect a Music Hall in Chicago as an endowment and permanent home for the Orchestra. There were some 8,500 subscribers to this fund, the subscriptions ranging in amounts from ten cents to twenty-five thousand dollars, and in December, 1904, the building known as Orchestra Hall was opened to the public since which time the concerts of the Orchestra have been given there. Two weeks later, the musical world was startled by the announcement of the serious illness of Mr. Thomas, and his death on January 4, 1905, came as a shock to musical people the world over.

As a tribute to the memory of Mr. Thomas, and a means of perpetuating the name of the pioneer of Orchestral Music in this country, the Orchestral Association, shortly after his death, dropped the name Chicago Orchestra and re-dedicated the title by which it was so well known before its advent in Chicago—The Theodore Thomas Orchestra.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS.

When grinding bread or cracker crumbs through the meat chopper, tie a paper bag over it; it prevents the crumbs from scattering. When the bag is full empty it into a dish and proceed as before.

Here is the way one busy mother writes to her three children away from home: By using a piece of impression paper she makes three copies of her letter, as she will say the same thing to each. Then if she wants to add a little personal note at the end of each, she does so. In this manner they all get a letter at one sitting.

A good idea for one who likes to write interesting letters is to make notes on the envelopes of unanswered letters, jotting down things from day to day that will be interesting, then when the time comes for the leisure to answer the letter, the suggestions will help, as one is so apt to often leave out the most important item of all.

A window shade which can be rolled up or down makes a good door for pantry shelves that have not been provided with doors.

Glass cut to fit a shelf, especially in a medicine closet, is a great convenience, as it is so easily kept clean. For a large dresser one may have an elaborately embroidered or trimmed cover under the glass.

A croquet box supplied with shelves and painted, white makes a most acceptable medicine closet for the bathroom.

To keep curtains from swinging in the wind, sew a small weight in the corner of each hem.

To keep rugs from slipping on a polished floor, sew strips of rubber on the under side of each hem.

In cleaning white enamel paint, use milk and ammonia. This mixture will not turn the enamel yellow.

When using gas and not caring to use the oven for so long a baking, boil the potatoes in their skins until nearly soft, and finish in the oven.

DINNER STORIES

Sam Y. Gordon, Lieutenant governor of Minnesota, is a joyful chap and always has a cheery word for his friends and acquaintances, and, in fact, is rather a good mixer. One morning in winter he dropped into a cafe patronized by some rather astute politicians and greeted the bunch with:

"Hello, boys, it's snappy this morning; thermometer stands at 20."

"Above or below?" asked the old-timer, gravely.

"Thunder! I never looked!" retorted Sam Y. in bewilderment.

While Congressman William Kent was campaigning in the mountains of Medicine county, California, he stopped at a wayside inn one evening, joined the group of mountain-eers round the big fireplace and listened to the general conversation which in that section is limited to two topics—sheepdogs and deer hounds.

"The best dog I ever knew," observed one of the old settlers, "was a kind of mixture of hound, sheep-dog and water spaniel; an Injun owned it. If he tucked out his rifle the dog wouldn't run nothin' but deer. If he tucked out his shotgun it wouldn't look at nothin' but quail or grouse. One day he tucked out his fishpoie. The dog glanced at it and run down by the spring and went to diggin' bait."

"The Injun used to make good money hirin' it out to fellers that come up from city a-huntin' deer—gettin' his five dollars a day. He'd go 'long with the dog, beat up a canon, jump a deer an' chase it up where the fellers could 'get a shot at it—the Injun yipin' right 'long with the dog. After while it got old an' fat, an' couldn't run no more; so the Injun used to hire himself out to do it. He wasn't so fast as the dog, but he was surer, 'cause he savvyed a little better which way to herd 'em."

"I'd like to see that Indian," observed Kent. "Is he round here?" "No!" The old man shook his head regretfully. "You see, deer got scarce after while an' the Injun got to chasin' jackrabbits—so they had to kill him!"

CLINTON

Clinton, Nov. 19.—Mrs. Thomas Ames received the sad news Sunday afternoon that her mother, Mrs. Emeline Smith, died at 3:30 p. m. at the home of her son at Pittsfield, Vermont. Mrs. Smith celebrated her 101st birthday the first day of October.

Albert Rader of Hebron, Ill., is visiting friends here for a few days.

The Sharon, high school football team failed to play here last Saturday and for the second time broke off their agreement to come and play the local high school team.

Misses Lenora and Jennie Northrop spent Friday in Janesville.

The school entertainment given in the assembly room of the high school proved to be a surprise and a revelation to the audience which completely filled the room. The program was carried out just as published, and is pronounced by all to be the best thing of the kind ever given in Clinton. Every one on the program acquitted himself with great credit. It was necessary to turn away about fifty people who wanted to gain admission, but there was not even standing room.

Mrs. C. L. Tuttle, F. W. Heron, A. Spaulding, F. H. Barnum, Nettie Scott, G. W. Hare, E. B. Kizer and Miss Stoney went to Darien, Friday night to visit the Eastern Star lodge, going over by train at 5:25 p. m. and C. A. Jackett sent a rig over and brought them back. They all report a most enjoyable time and are enthusiastic in their praise of the hospitality of the Sharon lodge.

The chicken supper at the Congregational church Friday evening was very largely attended and the ladies furnished a most delicious supper. The sale of aprons was very satisfactory, as was also the many pretty and useful things made by the C. T. G. girls.

Thomas McGraw was able to be down town Friday for the first time since his illness.

Rev. W. P. Leek of Beloit, formerly of this place, has purchased the Cram house and lot in that city for a home.

Matt Lamont of Sharon was here Saturday.

Francis Hughes of Madison was here Saturday.

Elmer Reimer returned from North Dakota, Friday noon.

Positive Antidote for Uric Acid Poison

NURITO

Drives the Pains of Rheumatism, Stiffness and Neuritis from the Body

There will be every variety of pain, sharp and lancinating, dull and throbbing, numbing and gnawing. The slightest movement will aggravate any or all of these pains. The weight of bed clothes will frequently prove unbearable.

When the case becomes chronic deformity will often ensue.

But there is no necessity for the disease ever reaching this stage.

Rheumatism can be relieved when it first appears or after it has thoroughly permeated the system. Nurito, an ethical prescription—not a patent medicine—will banish all these aches and pains and remove their cause. It is an antidote for uric acid poison.

Being free from opiates and narcotics, Nurito cannot harm anyone. It is a specific remedy for rheumatism, sciatica and neuritis, and has relieved thousands of the worst cases. Go to your druggist, purchase a $1.00 bottle, follow the directions and feel the immediate benefits.

SAVES ELDERLY PEOPLE FROM KIDNEY AND BLADDER MISERIES

Sleep Disturbing, Bladder Weakness, Backache, Stiff Joints, Rheumatic Pains Disappear After Few Doses are Taken

While people along in years are naturally more subject to weak kidneys, they can avoid the tortures of backache, and rheumatism, and be saved the annoyance of getting up at night with disagreeable bladder disorders, for the new discovery, Croxone, quickly cures the most severe and obstinate cases.

Croxone quickly and permanently cures these conditions because it removes the cause. It is the most wonderful remedy ever devised for ridding the system of uric acid. It is entirely different from all other remedies. It is not like anything else ever used for the purpose. Pills, tablets, and other medicines merely stimulate the kidneys, occasionally giving temporary relief. Croxone makes the kidneys filter the blood and sift out all the poisonous acids and waste matter that cause these troubles.

It soaks right in and cleans out the stopped-up inactive kidneys like water does a sponge, dissolves, and

It matters not how long you have suffered, how old you are, or what else you have used. The very principle of Croxone is such that it is practically impossible to take it into the human system without results. There is nothing else on earth like it. It starts to work the minute you take it and relieves you the first time you use it, and all your misery and suffering soon disappear. You can secure an original package of Croxone at trifling cost from any first-class druggist. All druggists are authorized to personally return the purchase price if it fails in a single case.

Difference Pointed Out.
 "Things equal to the same thing are equal to each other," remarked a man seated at a cafe table by way of proving what he had said. Proof

Father John's Medicine is Vouched for by Those on Whom you Can Rely, Who Know of Its History and Merit.

The faith of the people in Father John's Medicine has steadily grown because of the permanent character of its cures, a faith that was increased from the fact that many physicians prescribed it for their patients. It has had over fifty years success as a body builder, and for colds, and all throat and lung troubles. It is indorsed by clergy, doctors, hospitals and institutions, and by thousands who have used it, as the following impressive indorsements will show:

"We are pleased to indorse Father John's Medicine, knowing of its merit and history."

The Lady of the Mount

by FREDERIC S. ISNAM
 AUTHOR OF "THE STROLLERS UNDER THE ROSE" AND "ILLUSTRATIONS BY RAY WATERS"

REPRINTED BY THE BOBBY-MERRILL CO.

That which she proposed was impossible, quickly the young man answered. The mob—the terrible mob! Did she realize to what she would expose herself? Did she know the terrible danger? More plainly he told her. As for her going, it was not to be thought of; he must see she did not persist in her purpose.

"You?" My lady flashed him a glance. "You!" she repeated. "Whose men broke faith?"

"That may be!" His voice rang bitterly. "Yet, with stubborn resolution, your Ladyship must not go!"

"Must not!" And you presume—dare tell me that! You, then—

"I would there were no need to cross you, my Lady," he returned, when he heard him the door, leading from the street, suddenly opened; closed.

"Elise!" The voice of the Marquis, who had hurriedly entered, rang out; changed. "Mon dieu! What is this?"

In the dim light, an instant my lord stared hard at the man before him; then with drawn blade threw himself upon him.

CHAPTER XXXII.

Near the Altar.
 "Morbue! Here's a madman!" Ere the Black Seigneur could unsheathe his sword, that of the Marquis had pierced slightly his shoulder. "Put up your blade, my Lord!" As quickly springing back and drawing his own, he held himself in an attitude of defense. "In this matter are we, or should we be—of a mind!"

"We!" My lord's weapon played in fierce curves and flashes; he laughed derisively.

"I am here to serve her ladyship—if I can!"

"You!" A rapid coup de tierce was the Marquis' reply. "You! Who outlaws carried her off before! You are pleased to jest, Monsieur Bandit!"

"No jest, my Lord!" coolly. "Moreover, it is you who serve her ladyship ill at such a moment in—"

"Mon dieu! You instruct!"

"I have no wish for this combat, Monsieur le Marquis!" As he spoke, the Black Seigneur retreated slowly toward the door. "But if you press too close—"

"Ma foi! You talk very brave, but I notice your legs take you backward. However, it will not serve; you shall not escape."

"No!" His back now against the door, the Black Seigneur defended himself with his right hand, the while his left felt behind for a bolt which it found; shot into place. "Then let us remove temptation by locking the door!"

"What! You did, then, intend—"

A sudden force pounding from without on the door, interrupted.

"It was necessary to keep them out—but it will be only for a moment. So put up your blade!" peremptorily. "There is no time to lose."

"You are right!" The Marquis' face expressed scorn and unreasoning anger; his sword leaped to an accelerated tempo. "There is no time to lose. I shall honor you! The Marquis de Beauvilliers will stop to cheat the fourches patibulaires!" And my lord lunged, a dangerous and clever thrust that was met; answered. From the Marquis' hand the blade flew; struck the pavement; at the same time, a reading and tearing of wood came from the door.

The Black Seigneur leaped forward; but the stroke his adversary, now disarmed, expected, fell not on him; directed toward a lamp, overhead, sole source of illumination of the corridor, the weapon struck hard. Shattered by the blow, the ornamental contrivance crashed to the floor; the place was plunged in darkness.

"Save yourself, my Lord!" said a calm voice, and my lady, standing, as it were, in the center of a vortex of wildly rushing figures, felt her waist suddenly clasped; herself swept out! Once or twice she struggled; resisted, hardly knowing what she did; but the sound of a low, determined voice, not unfamiliar to her, and the consciousness of a physical force—or was it all physical?—that seemed to beat down her will, left no choice but to obey.

"The one, all of marble! Not easily broken into—or out of! Eh, your Excellency?" Swinging back something bright. "Full payment, this time! Not coppers, or round bits of lead, but steel, beautiful steel!"

Held to the spot by the abrupt terror and fascination of the scene, the Governor's daughter had made no sound, fearful of hastening the inevitable; but at the moment the man, with a last taunting word, launched forward, a cry, half articulate, burst from her lips. It was drowned by another voice, loud and commanding, which rang out from the entrance to the church.

"Sanchez!"

Perhaps the call disconcerted him; robbed the old servant's eye of its certitude; his arm of its sureness, for the blow, aimed at his Excellency the latter was enabled to evade. At the same time, as with singular agility he moved aside to save himself, the hand the Governor had been holding to his breast, shot out like an adder. It struck viciously, stung deep—full in the side of his tormentor.

"That for your metayage!"

But a momentary expression of satisfaction was, however, permitted his Excellency; the petty tragedy became overshadowed by the greater:

"The Bastille! Our Bastille!"

And again a shower of bullets, directed in hatred, fell upon the church, because its windows were priceless; shone with saints of inestimable value! In the chapel, an amby and a pascina were struck; around the Governor, began to clatter and break into bits on the pavement, when suddenly he wavered; his hand sought his heart, then felt for and clung to the monument, as if abruptly seeking support.

"Why did you do it, Seigneur?" As my lady, exclaiming wildly, ran to her father, Sanchez, from where he lay, looked up at his master.

"Call out, I mean? Not that it matters much now!" His implacable glance, swerving to the Governor, lighted with satisfaction. "The people have paid. And 'twas I—showed them the way!"

"It was you, then—who broke faith in the negotiations for the exchange of prisoners?"

A smile came to the face of the old servant. "I had to," he said simply. "I alone am to blame. No one knew, except, perhaps, the poet, who may have surmised: 'It was treachery for treachery!'" with sudden fierceness.

"You could not have done it, nor your father, nor any of the seigneurs before him!" The young man seemed scarcely to hear; his glance had again sought my lady. "But I am only a servant—and in dealing with a viper I used its own tricks! Did you think I had forgotten those stripes? Or the blow he gave your father—in the back?"

A moment Sanchez' hand fumbled at his coat; drew out a bag of oilskin. "Here is something that belonged to your father. I took it from his breast the day he died, thinking some time—I can't tell what—only it contains a letter from the former lady of the Mount! When my master got it, he told me to pack a few belongings that we were going—never to return!"

Sanchez' voice broke off; again he strove to speak; could not; put out his hand. Mechanically the Black Seigneur's closed on that of the old servant; even as it did so, the latter's fingers clutched suddenly; ceased to move. In the church now all was silent, but without arose discordant sounds; cries, harsh and vengeful, for the Governor!

Starting, the Black Seigneur gazed about, toward him they were clamoring for, now lying still, at the base of the monument. Then releasing the fingers, that seemed yet to hold him, the young man sprang forward, as my lady threw herself wildly, protesting, over her father. At that touch, the Governor's eyes opened; met hers; the Black Seigneur's!

Nearer the door, now rang the shouts. His Excellency seemed to listen; to realize what they meant; to him—his daughter—

"The Governor! The Governor!" Trembling tyrants! Trembling!

An ironical flash lit up, for an instant, the dying eyes. He, soon, would be beyond reach of these dogs—canaille! But she? His gaze again rested on the Black Seigneur; in that tense, fleeting second, seemed reading his very soul!

"Et la belle comtesse, sa fille!" cried the menacing voices.

A tremor crossed the Governor's face; his pale lips moved. "Forget! Save her!" An instant his eyes lingered persistently on the young man; then passed to his daughter; as they did so, slowly the light, more human and appealing than any that had ever shone there before, went out of them. My lady's fair head dropped until it lay on her father's breast; unconscious, she seemed yet to shield him with figure inert. But only for a moment!

"Et la belle comtesse!"

Stooping, the Black Seigneur snatched the slender form to his breast; ran back to the altar. There, looking around him, as one who made himself familiar with the place, his glance apparently found what it sought—a small stairway, entrance to the crypt. At the same time he started to descend, the people swept into the church.

"GETS-IT" Will Get Any Corn, Sure!

Almost Like Magic. Guaranteed.

You'll Quit Everything Else for "GETS-IT."

Any corn just loves to be cut and gouged, but it's mighty tough on you. Ears and stalks usually take away some of the toe with them, and leave the corn to flourish. The new corn cure "GETS-IT" is perfectly harmless to the healthy flesh, but it does go for a corn, blisters, callous or wart right off the red. The corn shrivels away from the healthy flesh and drops off.

You can apply "GETS-IT" in two seconds and it begins its work right off. Pretty soon you'll forget you ever had corns or bunions.

"GETS-IT" is sold at all druggists, at 25 cents a bottle, or sent on receipt of price by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago.

Sold in Jansville by McCue & Buss, Smith Drug Co., Reliable Drug Co., J. P. Baker & Son.

"Tis Foolish, Come to Think of it. Three days out from Hongkong on the steamer Clivo Maru, bound for San Francisco, the little American had just initiated her new-found friend, a stately English woman, into the subtle mysteries of the gum chewing art. For a full moment the novice chewed in silence, then: "Fancy," she exclaimed, still chewing, "how foolish one must feel, forever chewing and never swallowing!"

Europe's War Material. Europe withdraws from industry 4,500,000 men to make soldiers of them. They are kept from one to three years. What an appalling waste; how doubly preposterous if efficiency can be insured with militia training!—New York World.

The Current Craze. "A great many old plays are being fitted out with alleged melodies and sent out as operettas." "That's right. But they're going too far. I know of one actress who is going to star in a musical version of the multiplication table."

Benefited Many Who Had Tuberculosis. Those who suffer from Consumption, a general term applied to all the ailments of the lungs, and the proper care of the body are essential to a recovery. But in many cases something else is needed. Eckman's Alternative is a medicine which has been most successful in stopping night sweats, reducing fever and promoting appetite, and many who have used it declare it saved their lives. Investigate what it did in this case.

Condemned. For four years, I was troubled with cough, which gradually became worse. I had night sweats and pains in my chest. I was losing my appetite and had become so thin and weak I could not attend to my household duties. A physician pronounced my case Consumption. Not being satisfied, I was examined by the physicians of the Poly-clinic Hospital. They also pronounced the disease Consumption, which was proven later by an examination of sputum, as Tuberculosis Bacilli were found. I was ordered to a Consumptive Hospital. My nephew would not allow me to go until I had tried Eckman's Alternative. Before I had taken the medicine three weeks, I had marked relief. Night sweats ceased, pain in the breast relieved. Before long, my appetite returned, fever left me and I commenced getting well. My health became normal. I am in excellent health now and have been completely cured for ten years. I strongly recommend it.

(MRS.) MARY WASSON, Care Ed. Green, 122 S. 13th St., Philadelphia. Eckman's Alternative is effective in Bronchitis, Asthma, Hay Fever, Throat and Lung Trouble, because it purifies the system. Does not contain poisons, opiates or habit-forming drugs. Ask for booklet telling of recoveries and write to Eckman Laboratory, Philadelphia, Pa., for evidence.
